Sewer debt retirement fund

City, Attorney General are close to settlement

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
(Special ANP Writer)

A Romulus debt may be resolved. The State Attorney General's office and the City are close to agreement on how to dispose of a $1.7 million debt relative to the City's water and sewer debt funds. In a letter dated July 8, Robert Hammell, a consulting attorney, advised Romulus Mayor William Oakley regarding the possible agreement.

"All parties present agree that the approximate figure in question (debt) was $1,700,000. The State personnel agreed that they would permit the City to credit against that amount the debt service requirements paid in fiscal year 1982-83 and 1983-84 from the City's 10 mill general purpose Charter tax limitation.

"These two figures amounted to approximately $1,149,000.

"In addition, the City was to secure from Wayne County the $314,000 of surplus bond proceeds held, I believe, in one of the Downriver bond issue accounts, and this was to be applied against sewer debt service.

"This brought the total credits to approximately $1,463,000."

This leaves, Hammell pointed out, a balance of $237,000 owed. This amount could be paid off through the City's standing taxing structure.

If resolved, it would answer a question posed by City Council members through State Rep. Edward Mahalak who requested the Attorney General's opinion on whether Romulus could continue the 3 to 4 mill levy for water and sewer debt service after the voted time for that millage had expired.

The approved 3 to 4 mills had been operable for about 20 years and had a limitation of 20 years to pay off outstanding water and sewer bond issues. It was supposed to have expired in 1978.

In early 1982, State Attorney General Frank Kelly ruled that the City could continue to levy for water and sewer debt to pay that year's debt service requirement.

Upon a City Council member request, an audit was taken by the State Auditors, represented by John Tate, for about six months in 1982.

Local Briefs

$50,000 for drain clean-up

City Council last week earmarked $50,000 of the wind-fall $146,000 received from the Lewkowicz vs. Charles Youngblood lawsuit to clean local drains.

The then city treasurer now city councilman, John Lewkowicz, offered as a motion last week to use $50,000 for improvements to the Blakely and Trouton Drains.

The motion, seconded by Jimmie Raspberry, was approved by council.

Lewkowicz, as city treasurer, initiated a suit against Youngblood, the Wayne County Drain Commissioner, for Youngblood's use of local taxes for administrative purposes. The courts decided that Lewkowicz and those who joined in the lawsuit were right.

The county recently returned the monies to the city.

Candidates host fundraisers

Two city officials, Ray Cantrell and John Lewkowicz, will host fundraisers to prepare for the 1983 campaign battle.

Cantrell, who is seeking reelection as city clerk, will host a "50's" Party at 8 p.m. until 1 a.m., Aug. 27 at the Romulus VFW Hall, 39270 Huron River Drive.

Lewkowicz, presently a council member, is seeking his former post back as city treasurer. On Thurs., July 28, between 5:30 p.m. and 10 p.m., a fundraiser will be held at the Region I-E UAW Hall, 9650 Telegraph Rd., in Taylor. Tickets are $35.

For ticket information, telephone 942-0499.

Camera, action and landfills

A standing-room-only crowd turned out for last week's Huron Township Board of Trustees' meeting and most in attendance voiced opposition to a proposed landfill scheme.

Also on hand were camera crews from TV stations who, apparently received the word about the action-packed meeting.

When will construction begin

Council seek cable TV answers as residents log complaints

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
(Special ANP Writer)

A July 13 letter directed by the Romulus City Council to officials of Barden Cable TV asks when operations can be expected and why the delay in the construction of the local cable TV systems.

The communication was authorized at a July 5 Council meeting.

There has been some public concern that the Cable TV has not been in operation yet. Councilman Barry Baumann asked for a progress report from Barden TV.

The letter asks Barden Cable TV:

- (1) When should residents expect Cable TV to be received in the City?
- (2) Will operations of Cable TV be received prior to the opening of the Romulus studios which are now uncertain?
- (3) And most importantly, please explain the reason why Cable TV has not been received as of this date (July 13).

Barden had agreed that Cable TV would be operational 18 months after the Dec. 17, 1982 franchise was awarded.

However, the firm said they would be operational in part by June, 1983 with cable strung and some homes receiving.

Barden has applied and received okays on all of their permits to the Telephone and Detroit Edison, Clerk Cantrell said.

The firm has received approval from the Romulus Planning Commission for their studio and have also received a zoning variance for its construction.

But construction has not started on the building on the recently acquired property on Wick Road east of the Wycliff subdivision and there is no indication that wire has been strung to homes to handle communications as of yet.

"I don't think there's been a delay at all," said Don Barden president of Barden Cable TV.

"Everything has proceeded, such as engineering and the preparations for stringing the wire for the system and purchasing and ordering of equipment for the system.

"We have been signing up apartment complexes to receive the cable," Barden said.

Barden said that the estimate for a start in June was contingent on the purchase of the site (for the studio) which was delayed.

"We have the site now and the architect," he said.

"I can safely say," he continued, "that we should be operational, the first customer turned on, in September. We should be totally operational in February."

Five percent of Barden's gross revenue in Romulus will go to the City.

McAnally will run for mayor's position

Dispelling rumors to the contrary, city treasurer Beverly McAnally today said that she "is a candidate for the mayor's post."

"Any rumors to the contrary are totally unfounded," Mrs. McAnally continued, "and I remain, without reservation, a candidate for the top elected job this city has to offer."

Mrs. McAnally went on to point out that thus far she is the only candidate for mayor who has filed petitions with sufficient signatures that qualify.

Mayor William Oakley has not filed his petitions, although he has announced his candidacy.

Mrs. McAnally stressed her long service to the residents of Romulus as a council member and city treasurer as among the criteria that she should be judged for the job.

"I have spent 10 years in government, trying to affect the growth and the realization of potential for this city and I have come to the conclusion that one can only do that effectively from the mayor's post."

Angered Huron residents battle dump site approval

The wheels of political machinery, prodded by an irate public to fight two possible dumps, made its first motions at a special meeting of the Huron Township Board Friday night.

The first motion, unanimously supported, was to amend the budget to include discussion calling for a special election for the purpose of asking for the establishment of a Professional Defense Fund "for the protection of the health, safety, and welfare of the Township of Huron".

The second motion directs the Clerk to investigate the procedure of calling a special election to levy special millage to finance the Defense Fund.

How much the levy will be is uncertain. It could be as high as 2 mills over a two year period. This could amount to a tax of $185,000 per year, for a total of $370,000.

The action Friday was in response to events at a meeting last Wednesday evening.

Rumors of imminent requests for approval of two dump sites in Huron Township packed the Town Hall at a regular board meeting.

A camera crew from WXYZ-TV was on hand, acting apparently on a tip, along with about 150 residents armed with questions and bristling with protests. The little hall normally seats 40.

In reality, the subject was not listed on the agenda. A representative of one firm known to be proposing a dump site was at the meeting, however, as an observer. He requested minutes of the meeting later.

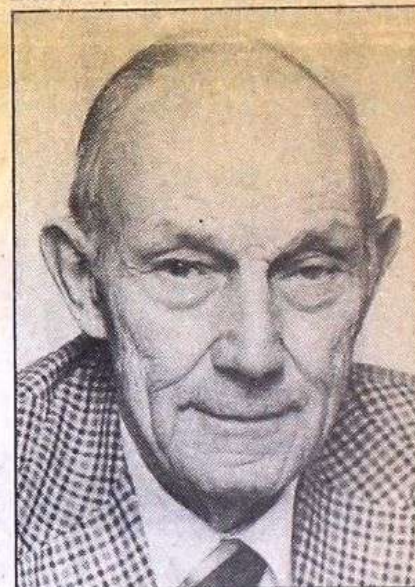

To accommodate the public's intense interest, the administration and the Board decided that the matter should be treated in a public hearing format.

The hearing lasted more than two hours. Positions were stated, accusations made, and tempers on occasion flared.

Huron Township, some 36 square miles, does not now have any dumps.

A former quarry area, once classified as a dump, is now used for residue of ashes, located at South Huron Drive off Will Carleton.

A. J. HAENER

During the past 15 months, however, studies have been done at a site at Sibley Road and I-275 for a Grade #2 solid waste dump. Lyon Development Company, a subsidiary of Browning Ferris Industries (BFI), a national firm, has conducted the studies.

It would be the first dump in Huron Township.

But since the Sibley site is located near Metro Airport its approval has been stalled. The Wayne County Solid Waste Planning Committee which would give the green light, is

Public hearings set

Child care units on council agenda

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
(Special ANP Writer)

Two prospective child care units in Romulus were the focus of a public hearing and an agenda consideration at a regular meeting of the Romulus City Council last week.

At the hearing a group of parents expressed their concern about two child care homes which are to be established on Cogswell Street and Ecorse Road.

Their concerns seemed to touch on various fears, including traffic congestion on the streets.

The Council voted unanimously to direct a communication to the sponsoring organization, Michigan Human Resources Inc., expressing the parents' concerns. The letter would serve as a response to Human Resources Inc. who asked the Council for its intent in regard to their request for approval.

Human Services Inc. already operates three homes of this nature in Westland, Wayne, and Southgate.

The homes supervise youths who have been abused and neglected. They range in age from 12 to 17.

Typically, they are referred through the Wayne County Department of Social Services. A youth may come from a natural home or a foster care home.

Michigan Human Services Inc. is a private, non-profit corporation with funding from the state. It operates with about 6.25 minimum full-time staff at each house supervising 6 youths, with 2 workers on duty during waking hours.

All of the youths in the two prospective homes in Romulus will be attending school.

Dan Bales re-elected school board president

Dan Bales will continue his tenure as president of the Romulus Community School District's Board of Education as he was unanimously selected for the job he held last year. The election took place at the board's organizational meeting held recently.

Trustees also elected Kenneth Berling as vice president; Sandra Langley, as secretary, and Joanne Marvicson, a treasurer. Trustees are Mary King, Ed Wilkerson and Richard Campbell.

School board meetings will be held on the second and fourth Monday of each month for the 1983-84 school year. Meetings are open to the public.

DAN BALES

Post, Smythe, Lutz and Ziel will act as auditors for the Board of Education and the Board chose to employ the firm of Keller, Thomas, Schwarze and Schwarze, Dubay and Katz, P.C. as the school board attorneys.

Sewer debt agreement near?

It was found that about $1.7 million through that water and sewer levy had been used for other than debt service retirement.

In fact, the money had been spent for new water and sewer lines, rather than on water and sewer debt retirements as it should have been.

What this means is that the city of Romulus owes money to one of its accounts, the Water and Sewer Debt Retirement fund.

Mayor Oakley has assigned Hamell and his firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone to work out the feasibility of paying the debt.

Any repayment plan would have to be approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

Hamell explains in his letter that if approved, the City would be given credit for about $1,149,000 toward the water and sewer debt for payments made during 1982-83 and 1983-84 through the City's 10-mill Charter general operating levy.

In effect, the City has been making payments, although that revenue did not come from a water and sewer debt retirement levy.

In addition, the State would allow money from excess bond issued to Romulus for Downriver area (money left over from bonds issued to Romulus for Downriver construction) to be applied for the debt retirement.

The balance of $237,000 is recommended to be paid in two ways:

The City would not have a water and sewer levy until the balance was paid to either the water and sewer debt service fund; or the City could take a second option, basically the same, but the balance would be paid to water debt service and no levy would be made to water debt service until the balance would be paid.

Huron school district budget hiked for added expenses

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
(Special ANP Writer)

Huron School board amended its 1983-84 school budget by $136,247 bringing the total budget to $6,213,058.

An increase in projected enrollment in community education, causing expenses were given as the reasons for the budget amendment.

The district will be compensated in the future when the state reimburses with state funds.

The Trenton Senior Citizen program, which only recently indicated Huron would continue to run their community education program, is the reason for the expense.

A textbook policy, requiring a $20 deposit from each student at the beginning of a four-year high school career, received its first reading at the school board meeting.

The student would be reimbursed upon graduation, if no damage or loss of books occurs.

A similar policy was also discussed relative to the athletic program. A student would in this case be required to give a $10 deposit at the beginning of each season for equipment used, and reimbursed at the end of the season.

The athletic equipment rule goes into effect immediately.

A separate voting precinct at Chateau Estates, the fourth in the school district, was voted 4-1 by the Board to accommodate the heavy voting population there.

Huron Township has seven voting precincts, including one at the Estates.

A grievance brought by the Huron Education Association on behalf of 15 teachers who were not on the top of the salary schedule, was denied.

The teachers had sought an increment which they assumed they would receive, but the Board held that they had made no such agreement in negotiations last August. The vote was 4-1.

A bus bid was awarded to Waltz Garage and Great Lakes Coach for a total of $92,978.63.

The chassis will be delivered by Waltz Garage and the bodies from Great Lakes Coach, for a total price of $22,777.66 each for three 65-passenger buses.

A 35-passenger orthopedic bus will cost $24,645.77. The buses will be paid for on a 5-year finance plan. Authorization of coaches for fall athletics was given in a unanimous vote.

Serving as Athletic Director will be John Cady; Varsity football coach, Jamie Hinojosa; Assistant Varsity football, Greg Hammond; Junior Varsity football, Armand Gubbini; Boys and Girls cross country, Jim Okler; Varsity Girls basketball, Ron Smith; Junior Varsity Girls basketball, Jay Dorenbecker; Ninth Grade Girls basketball, Bob Kelly; golf, Charles Unsel; and Cheerleading, Mary Jo Timbers.

Six of the coaches are non-teachers; four are teachers. All will be paid according to the Master Teacher's Contract.

Arraignment set for Heissler-Frye

Greg Heissler and John Frye, co-defendants in the murder of Dixie Cobb of New Boston, are scheduled for arraignment and pre-trial at the City County Building in Detroit Thursday.

Much of the activity will involve paperwork, and it is possible the defendants will not even be brought to the Prosecutor's office.

The Prosecutor may ask for a guilty plea from Frye in return for a reduced charge, to assure there will be no acquittal.

Frye has been arraigned on the same charges as Heissler: first degree murder (premeditated); and first degree criminal sexual conduct (CSC1) which is essentially murder committed during act of rape.

It is unlikely that any plea-bargaining will be conducted in the matter of Heissler.

It is likely that the Prosecutor will ask for the consolidation of the two cases into one trial but it in all probability will not be granted on behalf of defendant Frye. A separate trial is the likelihood.

The date for trial will be set at Thursday's hearing.

Dixie Cobb, 41, was murdered at her residence in New Boston in the early morning of June 20.

WCGH up for sale?

Reacting angrily to reports of the imminent sale of Wayne County General Hospital by the County Executive's office during a news briefing Friday, Wayne County Commissioner Kay Beard said such a move could not be made without the approval of the County Commission.

Announcement of the proposed action was made by Dennis Nystrom, a spokesman for the CEO.

Nystrom told reporters that a number of offers had been made to the Executive's office and that, because of continuing losses over the past years, a decision had been made to sell the 151-year-old facility.

"He cannot close that hospital," Mrs. Beard asserted, "because he simply does not have the authority. Aside from not having commission approval, the CEO has the duty to implement all county resolutions, according to Sec. 4.112 (2) of the Charter, including one passed last month mandating that the hospital remain open.

"Any further movement in this direction," Commissioner Beard said, "will certainly lead to legal action."

For Jerry's kids

To help raise funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation, the management at the Tin Lizzie Restaurant in Belleville (off of I-94) will offer a 2-for-1 bargain during the month of August, with funds going to MDA. To help publicize the campaign are Sam Durante (at left) who gives Ronnie Auten, the MDA's Poster Child a lift) and Denise Cabay. Jerry Lewis, long associated with the MD fund campaign, has appealing to all to contribute to the fund drive in order that one day doctors and researchers may one day find a cure for the dreaded disease that usually inflicts children. Adults also are not immune to muscular dystrophy.

Retroactive

Huron, police OK contract

The Huron police contract was unanimously approved by the Township Board at a regular meeting last week.

The contract calls for a 2 percent increase for full-time and part-time officers retroactively effective from April 1, 1982.

It also provides a 5 percent increase for full-time officers effective April 1, 1983.

Part-time officers will receive $7 per hour as of April 1.

The four full-time police officers had ratified the agreement by a vote of 3 to 1.

The Board's approval ends a year-and-a-half stalemate over the wage aspects of the last two years of a three-year open-ended contract. The initial contract, agreed to in April, 1981, provides the wage for the first year but left the last two years open to negotiation.

In other business, the Flea Market ordinance governing the Flea Market in New Boston was approved unanimously by the Board.

Supervisor Haener, in his report, noted that he and Deputy Supervisor John Chihan are currently in a search for a full-time building inspector and ordinance enforcement officer.

In other matters, Treasurer Chris Gamber made a motion that the Huron Township Board become a member of the Huron Chamber of Commerce. The vote was unanimous.

Gamber also brought up for discussion the proposal of having a part-time Animal Control Officer. The full-time position was abolished April 13.

Supervisor Haener replied that he thought the responsibility could be handled with available personnel.

"I'll come back on it," Gamber smiled.

Haener replied that if he finds out that he does not have sufficient personnel to cover the responsibility "I'll be the first to come back on it."

In other business, the Board approved a request by the Huron

Athletic Boosters Club, Inc. that the unclaimed items of the Huron Police Department be given for their Annual Labor Day Rummage Sale.

Revenue from sales goes toward purchase of sports equipment, medical supplies, and uniforms of the athletes of the Huron School District.

Sugar Loaf here they come

There was something new and something old for those who qualified for the Associated Newspapers' Sugar Loaf drawing. ANP carriers and subscribers qualified for the giveaway by several means, such as finding subscribers or becoming a new subscriber. When all the names were in, Donna McEachern (at left) secretary of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, picked the winners. And the winners are: David Drews of Westland (Voluntary Pay Carrier Winner); Mike Harvard of Belleville (Paid Route Carrier Winner); Elizabeth Lovely of Westland (Present Subscriber Winner) and Shelby Kuchta of Belleville (New Subscriber Winner). The four winners were congratulated by ANP circulation director, Bob Turon. Each winner awarded a $200 gift certificate to be used to defray costs for their stay at the popular Traverse City resort.

On child care units

Public hearings scheduled

At one of the Homes, the Cogswell home, the youths who are mildly retarded will be housed — that is, they have learned at a slower rate and are behind in school performance. All will be attending special education classrooms.

The other group in the Ecorse home are school truancy youths, and the goal is to get them adapted to normal school and social situations. They will attend public schools, with some in special education.

There are now about 12 foster care homes in the Romulus community, established within the last 3 or 4 years.

City Clerk Ray Cantrell said there is no record of incident from any of those homes.

In other business, the City Council voted unanimously to establish a district in Romulus for the purpose of tax abatement.

The Council's move provides Southview Inc., wholesalers of fresh flowers, the first step in receiving up to 50 percent tax reduction on the new construction at 6855 Metroplex Drive in Romulus off Ecorse and Middle Belt Rd.

The district constitutes 37,433 square feet of land where a new addition is being constructed.

Under Public Act 255 of 1978, an incentive program set up by the State of Michigan to retain commercial businesses within the state, a city may elect to give 50 percent tax abatement to a business establishing a new structure, up to a period of 12 years.

The Council's vote represents the first step in giving Southview Inc. that break.

The same break was given to Detroit Diesel Allison Under Act 198 of 1974, the industrial aspect of the State incentive, when they built the plant in Romulus about 10 years ago.

In other matters, City Council suggested that all recommended appointments for the Cable TV Committee, a supervisory unit, be put before the July 26 meeting for possible selection.

The Cable TV Committee is a unit of 5 people from the community with the responsibility of overseeing Cable TV operations.

Cable TV operations are handled by Barden Cable TV Communications of Inkster.

The franchise was granted December 17, 1982.

Transition period

Beverly students reassigned to Cory School

Ninety students from the Beverly attendance area were assigned to Wick School when Beverly closed in June of 1982 and 110 students were assigned to Cory.

The consolidation of Beverly and Cory elementary schools brought forth several incidents particularly in the upper grades that caused some concern, according to Assistant Superintendent Terrel LeCesne.

By May there had been several parental complaints from both communities that suggested the transition was not going well.

LeCesne recommended that a committee be established to ascertain how well things were going for all students at the school. The committee was called the Cory School Climate Observation Committee. It was composed of Dr. James House (Leadership Development Consultant for Wayne County Intermediate School District) Mr. Jason Lovette (former high school principal, citizen and school board member) Mr. Donald Morris (local resident, businessman and parent) Mrs. Gloria Chandler (former school board member, citizen and parent).

None of the committee members are presently involved with Cory School.

Their task was to visit the school individually and spend time observing and talking to students in the classroom, cafeteria and playground. They would also talk to teachers, principal and other school personnel. Their purpose was to determine whether there were any widespread feelings of alienation or resentment among the students, teachers and other school personnel and how well the children have adjusted to each other.

Dr. House presented the committee's report at the board meeting on July 11 and members of the committee were in attendance to answer questions. Areas needing additional review such as better communication between principal, office, teachers and parents; an array of problems surrounding the sixth grade; lack of consistency of discipline; and the fact that some Beverly teachers and some staff members do not feel a part of the Cory team. Many of these problems could have been prevented if there had been adequate preparation and orientation of staff and students to the many changes.

Mrs. Byrd, Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Edwards were present representing parents from the Beverly attendance and requested a meeting with Dr. William Bedell concerning the implementation of these recommendations. They did not appear satisfied and Edwards questioned why no one from their group was placed on the committee.

Bedell explained that "it would be counter-productive to have parents who were emotionally involved on the committee."

At the close of the discussion Chandler summed up the feelings and observations of the committee by saying "we are trying to make next year a better one for all kids."

Consolidation between Wick and Beverly apparently was carried on with no problems, school officials stress. A spirit of cooperation existed among the students, staff members and parents.

However, Bedell promised that there would be more orientation between students and parents being transferred from one school to another and staff members, parents and students at the new school.

Work of art

Artists are always proud to display their works and Van Buren senior citizens are no exception. They received that opportunity recently at their annual senior citizens Arts & Crafts Show. With their artistic endeavors above

Citizens' Advisory Council seeks support for V-B school millage

In a drive to gain voter support, the Citizens Advisory Council of the Van Buren Public Schools, has launched an intensive letter-writing and fund raising campaign.

The school district, which recently came to a tentative contract agreement with its teachers, will hold an Aug. 2 special millage election.

In a letter dated July 1, the Citizens' Advisory Council notes:

"Your help is needed by the Citizens' Advisory Council. We need your contributions to help us support an extensive millage campaign."

"On August 2, 1983, the Board of Education of the Van Buren Public Schools has called a Special Millage Election. The Citizens' Advisory Council of the Van Buren Public Schools, a committee of concerned parents, administrators, school employees, and students has formed to support and to gain the support of other residents of the district to see this millage increase passes."

Romulus business benefits

A large business in Romulus, is benefiting from defense contracts awarded by the Defense Construction Supply Center (DCSC) of Columbus, Ohio. The Center announced recently the award of a contract for $98,912 to GM Corp., 36501 Van Born Rd., which will produce tire assemblies for use by the U.S. military services.

With an inventory of over 350,000 items, the Center last year bought over $540 million worth of items that ranged from lumber and wood products to plumbing accessories such as pipe, pumps, valves and fittings. Repair parts are purchased for vehicles as simple as commercial trucks and sedans and as complex as military aircraft, ships and submarines.

DCSC also buys such major end items as tractors, cranes, road machinery, forklifts and mechanized materials handling equipment. DCSC is a field installation of the Defense Logistics Agency, Washington, D.C.

"The Citizens' Advisory Council is in the process of an extensive campaign to register non-registered voters in the school district and to get those already registered to vote in favor of passing the millage on election day."

"The mills being asked for will provide a full educational program for the district's students, which has not been possible in the last four years due to cut backs in state funding and the rising costs in utilities, building maintenance, and various other cost increases."

"So, in order to establish the return of a six-hour school day, restore Art, Music, and Physical Education to the elementary schools, meet all accreditation standards at Belleville High School, support co-curricular activities such as plays, musicals, clubs, and athletics, to return full custodial services, and provide the funds needed to get the district out of its current deficit and enable it to meet rising costs we must operate this campaign to its fullest extent. This entails large amounts of funding to pay for supplies such as paper, postage, envelopes, advertising, poster board, phone usage, etc."

"Because you are a vendor of the school district, who also benefits in our schools operating to their fullest, or in fact remaining open, we are asking you for a minimal donation to help us support this campaign. Please send your contribution to the Citizens' Advisory Council, 555 W. Columbia, Belleville, MI 48111. If you have any further questions, please call 313-697-9123."

"As stated in the Ballots Committee Act, a corporation is permitted to contribute to a Ballot Question Committee. If the contribution total is $200 or more in a calendar year, the corporation must comply with the registration and reporting requirements of the Act and must file a Statement of Organization."

The letter is signed by Sue Combs, Citizens Advisory Council, Van Buren Public Schools.

Schools receive state aid payments

Senate Majority Leader William Faust (D-Westland) today announced that June state aid payments to schools in the 12th State Senate District total $12,594,791.

In addition, Faust said, $425,366 in Title I funds and $73,902 in vocational education monies were allocated for distribution to the districts.

The Title I funds help districts pay for special programs for students who need additional assistance. Those funds were allocated to:

Airport Community School District, $45,262; Lincoln Consolidated School District, $41,411; Cherry Hill School District, $20,000; Livonia

Public Schools, $101,000; Romulus Community Schools, $5,430; Wayne-Westland Community School District, $124,718; Flat Rock Community Schools, $22,398; Crestwood School District, $5,077; Huron School District, $3,003; Woodhaven Public Schools, $5,000; Van Buren Public Schools, $52,066.

Vocational education funds were allocated to:

Lincoln Consolidated School District, $1,200; Livonia Public Schools, $14,439; Romulus Community Schools, $10,569; Wayne-Westland Community School District, $37,494; Huron School District, $10,200.

The breakdown of June state aid payments to districts is as follows:

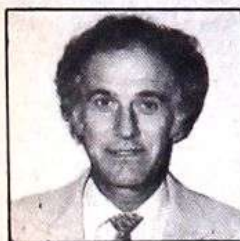

| DISTRICT                                 | STATE AID |
|------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Airport Community School District        | $ 80,017 |
| Lincoln Consolidated School District     | 425,219   |
| Cherry Hill School District              | 438,362   |
| Romulus Community Schools                | 738,918   |
| Taylor School District                   | 3,125,604 |
| Wayne-Westland Community School District | 5,770,635 |
| Crestwood School District                | 2,954     |
| Huron School District                    | 539,545   |
| Woodhaven Public Schools                 | 493,363   |
| Van Buren Public Schools                 | 980,176   |

Metro is very busy

Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport, operated by the Wayne County Road Commission since 1930, last year handled over 80 percent of the total airline passenger and air cargo traffic in the state.

Expected to cause motorists delays in mid-August through October is the rehabilitation of the airport's Terminal Drive Bridge Deck at the L.C. Smith (main terminal) although all construction will take place entirely during evening hours — from 10:30 p.m. to 6:30 a.m.

To assist passengers, the airport will provide traffic reports to local radio stations. Detroit Metro Airport handled over 8.8 million of the 10.9 million passengers served in Michigan.

Views On Dental Health

By SHERMAN H. KANE, D.D.S.

CROWDED TEETH

If your child's permanent teeth are crowded because of an extra tooth or a tooth growing where it shouldn't, your dentist will know the best time to extract it.

If it's a baby tooth, he may want to extract the extra tooth right away so the permanent teeth will have the room they need when they erupt. But if it's a case of crowding of permanent teeth, he may want to wait until the child is older and all the permanent teeth are in place. It's a question of timing, of knowing the ideal time to relieve the crowding problem.

cerned about your child's appearance and health. If it's a dental problem, it should be taken care of BEFORE it becomes more difficult to treat.

That's what makes regular dental checkups important. If there's any problem, including crowded teeth, it can be treated before it gets out of hand.

A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of: SHERMAN H. KANE, D.D.S., 9840 Haggerty Rd., Belleville. Phone 697-4400.

Romulus mayoral candidate says

City dragged feet on Block Grants

Beverly McAnally, Romulus City Treasurer and contender for the mayor's post in this fall's elections, was sharply critical of recent council action that denied further consideration and assistance to two community-based requests for Block Grant funding.

The Romulus Civic League and Romulus Little League had been earlier approved by Council to be included for Block Grant assistance.

Communications from Wayne County Community Development Block Grant Coordinator, Terrence Jarvis, left the door open for modifications that according to a memo from City Grants Coordinator, Pat

Hogan, could "provide sufficient information to rationalize the use of the money."

A memo from Mayor William Oakley indicated a possibility that the money could be allocated to the organizations if the Council so directed. The City Council voted three to two with two abstentions not to pursue the matter further.

At issue was an allocation of $2,500 each to the two community-based groups to assist them with their activities. A motion by Councilman Barry Baumann, supported by Councilman Allan Lambert, to request the mayor to pursue the required information to meet regulations went down in defeat.

"In some respects, I don't blame the Council," said McAnally. "The matter was doomed from the start. Due to administrative mishandling, deadlines were ignored, documents filed prior to hearings and decisions made before the opportunity for community input."

"In my opinion, the final vote was a mockery," she continued. "Everyone played their role and the public was hoodwinked into thinking that they had a part in the decision-making when the decisions were already cut and dried. The mayor had his 'no' votes in line, so, with the two abstentions, the matter was dead, to all appearances. Actually, it could be reviewed if the council wished. Amendments can be filed for up to six months.

"I know that the post office, to which $45,000 has been proposed for site improvement, has been one of the Oakley campaign promises for three campaigns and I am sure he would sacrifice a lot to produce a building at election time. But, the fact is that the postal authorities have not yet made a site selection and are expressing concern about indications of soil contamination at the foundry site," McAnally continued. "It seems irresponsible to me to think about putting $45,000 of Block Grant monies into a site"

Pilot program for handicapped

Members of Gov. James J. Blanchard's Human Services Cabinet pledged their cooperation today to make the Model Life Services Project for handicapped adults "a true test" of the Life Services System.

The three-year pilot study — underway in four Michigan counties — is designed to improve services to adults with handicaps through better integration and coordination.

cies to consider waiving existing regulations if necessary to enable the experimental testing to take place.

Funding for the Model Life Services Project is provided, in part, by the Michigan State Planning Council for Developmental Disabilities of the Department of Mental Health through the use of federal funds.

Landfill construction has residents fuming

It was often loud, but the impromptu public hearing on Huron dump sites ended calmly.

During the more than 2-hour session last Wednesday, two trustees, two members of the administration, a state representative, a chairperson of the Zoning Board of Appeals, and a dozen residents spoke to the issue.

Supervisor A.J. Haener opened the session by reading a letter from a developer of a solid waste dump proposed for Sibley and I-275.

The letter indicated that Lyon Development Company would be willing to put a landfill at an alternative site, on South Huron Road and Bell Road, if the township would agree.

In an entirely separate matter of another proposed dump, for hazardous waste, at Will Carleton and I-275 at the other end of the township near Monroe, Haener outlined the legal procedure the firm, Environmental Management Systems, Inc., must follow.

The Supervisor indicated that one of the procedures will be the establishment of a nine-member committee to approve or disapprove. The township will have four votes on the committee, he said.

“...as far as the moral obligation to accept a dump in our community, I think that’s bullroar...”

“One more item I would like to bring up,” he continued. “Huron Township has an ordinance that says that anybody that can come into Huron Township must meet this ordinance, must be granted permission to do so.

“This was formulated by our Planning Commission and it was approved by our Township Board...

“...My reasoning...is that we’ve going to have a fight on two fronts...

“...I don’t think we are advocating them (dumps) but I do say that this Lyon’s outfit is the Cadillac of the industry... I think too, that whether we would like to admit it, and I’m sure there are people around here that would admit that we have a moral obligation, not only to ourselves but to the communities to have a landfill at sometime...”

Trustee Gary Bates asked permission to express an opposing viewpoint.

Bates spoke of his involvement in the year-long opposition to the solid waste landfill site at Sibley and I-275, and then said:

“...as far as the moral obligation to accept a dump in our community, I think that’s bullroar. I think that’s honest-to-God bullroar.”

Bates outlined the two proposed sites. One for solid waste and one for hazardous waste.

Bates interpreted Lyon Development Company’s agreement to change sites as admission that they have been defeated on the first site because of the seagull issue.

“There must be a reason for that,” he said. “They must be half way beat or well being beat already on the thing.”

“And I think we have to hold the line,” he continued.

“...I think we got a serious moral obligation (to fight)...”

Trustee John Puskar then spoke on the matter.

He told the audience “to be aware of the fight that is before us.

“And not think it might be $7 (cost of a special tax levy)... (the cost) comes closed to every household putting up $2,000.”

Puskar estimated that it might cost as much as $250,000 to fight on one site, and another quarter million dollars on the other.

“We’ve got to go to the people. That’s my key. If we are going to fight this. And the people are going to have to vote for a couple of mills to come up with the money.

“It’s my feeling that a lot of money is going to be needed for these lawsuits. And people are going to have to be aware of it, because the community does not have a quarter or a half-million dollars for professionals.

“Now mind you, we are dealing with professionals and in order to deal with them on their level we’re going to have to hire professionals who know how to get the work to give us the answers so that we can oppose any action in the courts.”

“Public Act 641 removes the local control ... of placement ... to the state Dept. of Natural Resources...”

He continued: “Nobody here on this Board wants a landfill, solid waste or toxic, nobody wants that. We hear everything that is negative on it on the state level.

“We as individuals cannot imagine how anything like a toxic waste site especially can go into a community when they cannot clean up the one’s they got.

State Rep. Richard Sullivan, a former Township Supervisor, was asked by Trustee Puskar if anybody had approached him for “any help that you could give because of his position on the state level.”

Sullivan replied that he had a call from Sen. Bill Faust (D-Westland) several weeks ago about a particular dump site and there had been some suggestion from him and his aide as to what might be done.

“I haven’t heard anything other than the fact that there was, I think Sunday in Waltz, somebody told me that there was another dump site proposed.

“I checked again today,” Sullivan said, “and there were no further applications in yet.

“There are two bills,” he said, “one a resolution and one bill pending. One is in the Environmental Protection Committee and the other is in the Department of Health.

“One says you can’t have any new landfill sites — a moratorium declared for a year.

“The other one is being reviewed for the control of solid wastes,” he said.

Township Clerk Mary Lou Carey then spoke, saying that as she had stated on earlier occasions “...we don’t need a landfill, I do not want a landfill in Huron Township.

“However,” she continued. “Public Act 641 removes the local control. Public Act 641 gives the control of placement of landfill to the State Department of Natural Resources (DNR) who have already issued a construction permit for the Sibley-I-275 site.

“That particular site is being held off the county plan at this time by a flock of seagulls — a problem that has been studied in Buffalo, New York and from my understanding has about been solved, that they know how to get rid of seagulls around landfills and airports. The study has not been completed and I

Canton sues county over road 'dusting'

Members of the Canton Township Board of Trustees have approved the action of Supervisor James Poole in instituting legal action against the Wayne County Road Commission. Poole took the action nearly two weeks ago when it became clear, he said, that no further considerations would be given road maintenance within the township.

Township Treasurer Maria Sterlini was opposed to the suit, however, and stated at the regular meeting of the board last week that she interpreted the action as "a slap in the face, and others took it that way, too."

Poole explained to the trustees that he was of the opinion nothing more would be resolved in negotiations with the county. He had, along with several other neighboring municipal officers, arranged for a 50-50 cost split with the county on the chloriding of the roads during continuing negotiations during the past few months.

"I don't think anything more is going to be resolved on the chloriding of the roads. They are adamant on the 50-50 split," Poole said. "In four different meetings with the Wayne County Road Commissioners and their staff we got nowhere. The township attorney feels now is the proper time for this," he added.

Joining Canton in the suit, which primarily seeks to establish total responsibility for the maintenance of the county roads, is Plymouth Township, Van Buren Township, Sumpter Township and Huron Township. "When they wouldn't give on the 50-50, we decided to sue," Poole explained.

Trustee Robert Padgett inquired as to the danger to other negotiations with the county in light of the suit. "If we're suing on the maintenance, does that impair or harm negotiations on improvements?" he asked.

Township Clerk John Flodin, who had stated at previous meetings that "You don't negotiate or do business with someone who's suing you," expressed a different outlook in this instance. "The county people still talk to me. My sentiments are that the people at the road commission would like this settled once and for all. As far as stopping negotiations on improvements, I think the road commission has an obligation under Public Act 51. I don't think they will completely abandon their responsibility to Canton Township," Flodin noted.

Poole seconded Flodin's assessment and explained that he felt that negotiations could go forward concerning improvements.

Sterlini, however, steadfastly objected to the action. She stated that she felt the entire board should have voted before the suit was filed. "I didn't see anything that provoked this suit," she said. "I saw an open door with the county ... all of a sudden a suit on the date of our resolution. How much will a lawsuit cost?" she said.

A motion from Larson, seconded by Trustee Carol Bodenmiller was approved 6-1 with Sterlini casting the only dissenting vote.

E.T. visits Belleville

The famous E.T. not only had an opportunity to phone home from the Brass Belle Restaurant recently, but the world (and outer world) renowned "movie star" was dined and wine at the Brass Belle before owners, Phil and Pam Brigandi decided to share him with the students at Elwell School. So principal Bill Chizmar (center) hustled over to the restaurant to accompany E.T. to school and the classroom.

Armed Forces

Airman Anthony W. McKay, son of David W. and Bonniejenn McKay of 21269 Otter, Belleville, has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the missile-electronics maintenance field.

He is a 1982 graduate of Huron High School, New Boston.

Pvt. Douglas R. Fields, son of Barbara A. Antonow of 395 Nevada, Belleville, and Elvin Fields of 32380 Cambridge Drive, Fraser, has completed the basic field artillery cannoner course at Fort Sill, Okla.

During the course, students were taught the duties of howitzer or gun section crewman.

They also received instruction in communications, maintenance and the handling of ammunition and explosives.

First Lt. Walter E. LeCouteur, son of Walter M. and Doris A. LeCouteur of 20058 Cornell St., Romulus, has participated in Global Shield 83, an exercise involving U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps units, and elements of the Canadian forces.

The exercise, coordinated by the Air Force Strategic Air Command (SAC), was designed to enhance readiness and the ability of SAC to carry out orders should deterrence fail.

LeCouteur is a missile combat crew commander with the 741st Strategic Missile Squadron at Minot Air Force Base, N.D.

His wife, Mary, is the daughter of Ruth Stone of 1672 Woods Road E., Port Orchard, Wash.

He is a 1980 graduate of the University of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Wash.

Ray's Market offers best in meats, produce

Ray's Prime Meat is again offering the opportunity to save money through the purchase of bulk frozen fruits and vegetables, providing a savings of up to 50 percent over individually packaged retail sizes.

Ray's, with locations in Trenton at 3695 West Road and in Taylor at 23167 Eureka Road, will receive the bulk of frozen foods through Coloma Frozen Foods Inc., a western Michigan food processor.

Frozen foods available include strawberries, red raspberries, red tart cherries, blueberries, black cherries, peaches, blackberries, apricots, pineapple, melon, rhubarb, boysenberries, peas, brussels sprouts, mixed vegetables, lima beans, corn, cauliflower, broccoli, stewing vegetables (celery, carrots, potatoes and onion), sliced mushrooms and asparagus.

Orders can be placed through July 29 by calling Ray's Prime Meats at 676-7297 or 287-8240, or by mailing the order phone, or delivering it in person, to the two aforementioned locations.

The orders can be picked up between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. on Aug. 2. Visa, Master Card, Food Stamps, MTA and MTE will be accepted for the bulk purchases.

Huron residents fuming over proposed landfill construction

have been told it is pretty accurate. That (seagull study) is not going to hold that site off Huron Township's map.

"The (alternate) site at South Huron Drive and Bell Road, there is approximately 150 acres a man has under option at this time.

"Mr. Layman (Lyon Development Company president) contacted the owner of that property, went in there and did three tests for him and found that it is a site that would be very much the same as the Sibley-I-275 site as far as putting in a landfill, which is to their benefit, not to ours.

"... perhaps 5 years from today, whoever the governor is, would sign the moratorium, or some amendment to PA 641."

"Mr. Haener and I looked at the site, the fact it is away from the heavily populated area...

"... any attorney ... you want to get into the lawsuit, will say we're going to have a landfill.

"Sumpter Township, Van Buren Township, any other Township in Wayne County, they've all been through the same thing.

"Mr. Sullivan said, maybe in September, the State Legislature in a committee would take up a moratorium in amendments to Public Act 641.

"Being somewhat familiar with the process of how long it takes anything to go through the State Legislature, perhaps 5 years from today, whoever the governor is, would sign the moratorium, or some amendments to Public Act 641.

"It could happen sooner but we don't know that and in the meantime the Michigan DNR and the Wayne County Solid Waste Committee have the total say over where that landfill is going to go.

"I think what I am trying to explain to these people is that there are seven people sitting up here with our hands tied, that we don't want a landfill, anymore than you do," she concluded.

Her remarks concluded general statements from the Board and the administration.

A member of the audience remarked that he did not get the impression that the Board was solidly against the dumps.

Another asked Supervisor Haener why he met with the Lyon Development Company representative.

Haener replied:

"Well, it's very simple. I think I have tried to explain this. That, everybody is talking about money and I think that if we have to have a landfill, we don't have enough money to defend this thing on two fronts.

"Certainly the hazardous landfill is the one we want to fight, and fight all the way because that is bad, it is dangerous, hopefully we can get Ash Township into the act, because those people do not have city water, all of their water is well water ..." he said.

Quite an exchange ensued from the audience asking what the township board and administration have been doing to fight the dumps.

Doris Davis, chairperson of the township Zoning Board of Appeals, then spoke from the audience:

"I would like to tell the people of the township where their landfill stands. As it's in Layman's letter, the application for the permit was made before the Zoning Board of Appeals.

"It was made before us. We had our public hearing. We in turn have referred it to the Planning Commission and it has it under advisement as is your ordinance and you have gone behind all of our backs and gone to Layman and cut a deal.

"...You yourself (Haener) appointed me to the Zoning Board but you go behind our back and cut a deal, you and Mrs. Carey.

"Let me go through the rest of the ordinance for these people. Once the Planning Commission finishes it then they make the recommendation to the Board, then the Board sends it back to the Zoning Board of Appeals and your ordinance says the Zoning Board of Appeals issues the permit or doesn't and I have never been told what you are doing nor have the other people. You two are doing it yourself..."

Peter Glaab, a New Boston businessman, received the floor and, midst much shouting said:

"When we make false accusations... I have been as concerned about this dump as anybody in this room. And I have been checking around also. And I'll tell you what, when people attack this kind of a project, they don't tell everything they're doing. They don't give it away because you know it's a game of strategy.

"Let's try to be rational about this. If we're not rational tonight, they're going to be out building that dump tonight and we're going to be in here arguing amongst each other..." Glaab said.

Perhaps the most striking statement from the audience came from Jerry Clark, a township resident:

"If we're not rational tonight, they're going to be out building that dump tonight and we're going to be in here arguing..."

"I live across from the dump site, the new one, on Sibley. You talk about everybody getting in and fighting the dump, I have been fighting the dump for over a year.

"I can tell you about information. I've been fighting the dump, my wife has been fighting the dump.

Making his point

As TV camera zero in on him, Huron Township board member Gary Bates (at left) makes his point. Bates' and the residents who attended the meeting were unanimous in their sentiments about a proposed landfill — they told officials of the DNR they didn't want it in the township.

"Wayne County's got 11 years of dump sites. They don't have to have one more dump site to dump their garbage. I went through all of this...I got 3 or 4 hundred dollars worth of telegrams.

"It all sounds good, everybody can sit here and wonder. My kid's got 6 or 7 allergies. I brought this up a year ago. The Health Department said 'tough'...

"The only thing that stops this dump site now is that the law states it must be within 10,000 feet of a runway. Where the Sibley landfill is now is 10,341 feet.

"I'll tell you something that's really cool. The people that measure it out is BFI (Browning-Ferris Industries, parent of Lyon Development Company), the landfill people. No one here has taken an exact measurement. BFI did.

"Now we stopped them with the seagulls because they will hit the planes and cause damage.

"Who put up $250,000 to run a test to stop the seagulls? BFI did.

"I could go through this for days. My wife's got letters.

"I'll tell you. The only way is to do your best. This is going to be here or you can stop it..."

Carter's remarks were followed by another resident who has been active the past year against the Sibley road dump site, Dennis Glasgow:

"One more point has to be made. Let's tell the audience here because they just got involved the last three

HURON TOWNSHIP ORDINANCE NO. 83-3

AN ORDINANCE TO REGULATE THE OPERATION OF FLEA MARKETS AND OTHER OPEN OUTDOOR CASUAL SALES AND TO PROTECT THE HEALTH, SAFETY AND WELFARE OF THE PEOPLE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF HURON BY THE ESTABLISHING OF CERTAIN LICENSING REQUIREMENTS REGULATING THE OPERATION OF A FLEA MARKET OR OTHER OPEN OUTDOOR CASUAL SALE WITHIN THE TOWNSHIP OF HURON; TO ADOPT STANDARDS FOR THE ISSUANCE AND REVOCATION OF SUCH LICENSES; TO PROVIDE FOR THE ADMINISTRATION OF THIS ORDINANCE AND PENALTIES FOR ANY VIOLATION THEREOF.

It Is Hereby Ordained By the Township of Huron, Wayne County, State of Michigan:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

This Ordinance shall be referred to as the Flea Market Ordinance.

SECTION 2. PURPOSE AND OBJECTIVE.

Pursuant to authority of Public Act 1945, Act 246 as amended, it is the purpose of this Ordinance to protect the health, safety and welfare of the people of the Township of Huron by regulation of the business of operating a Flea Market or other casual sale conducted in whole or in part outside a building so that the outdoor gathering of persons and vehicles are controlled and parking provided so that adequate safety and sanitary facilities are maintained by the operator thereof, so that overnight camping at such Flea Market is prohibited, so the hours of operation are regulated, and so that the public peace is preserved.

SECTION 3. DEFINITIONS.

(a) "Flea Market" or "other open outdoor casual sale" shall mean any facility from which members of the public at large are allowed to conduct the activity of sale, barter, trade and/or exchange of goods, second hand articles, antiques or other tangible personal property from outdoor or partially outdoor stands, counters, pavilions, tents or buildings, when such activity is conducted at the facility more than 3 days per calendar year.

(b) "Garage Sale", "Attic Sale", "Lawn Sale" or "Rummage Sale" shall mean the sale of any new or used personal property which sale is conducted on or about the premises of a private residence or in a residential area as defined by the Huron Township Zoning Ordinance by the owner or occupant thereof or with the permission of such owner or occupant and which sale is open to the public.

(c) "Flea Market Operator" shall mean any person, firm or corporation who owns or leases and has control and possession of the premises at which the activity of flea market is conducted.

SECTION 4. LICENSE REQUIRED.

It shall be unlawful for any Flea Market Operator to conduct the business of a Flea Market unless a license is obtained therefor as provided hereunder.

SECTION 5. APPLICATION FOR LICENSE.

Any person, firm or corporation desiring to conduct a flea market operation shall file a written application with the Township Clerk on a form to be furnished by the Township Clerk. The applicant shall accompany the application with a tender of the correct permit fee as hereinafter provided and shall in addition furnish the following:

- (1) The type of ownership of the business, i.e., whether individual, partnership, corporation or otherwise;
- (2) The name, style and designation under which the flea market operation is to be conducted;
- (3) The business address and all telephone numbers where the business is to be conducted;
- (4) The following personal information concerning the applicant, if an individual; and concerning each stockholder holding more than 10% of the stock of the corporation, each officer and each director, if the applicant is a corporation, and concerning the partners, including limited partners, if the applicant is a partnership; and concerning the manager or other person principally in charge of the operation of the business:
  - (i) Name, complete residence address and residence telephone numbers.
  - (ii) The two previous addresses immediately prior to the present address of the applicant.
  - (iii) Written proof of age.

- (iv) The business experience of the individual, including but not limited to whether or not such person has ever had a business permit or license denied, revoked or suspended and the reason therefor.
- (v) All criminal convictions other than traffic violations fully disclosing the jurisdiction in which convicted, and the offense for which convicted and the circumstances thereof.
- (5) The applicant shall furnish information as may be required by the Police Department, Fire Department and Building Department of the Township relating to the location where the operation shall be conducted. Such information shall include the type of construction, arrangement of stalls and aisles, location of electrical wiring, location of exits, location of fire equipment, location of parking lots showing the number of usable spaces, location of sanitary facilities for the use of persons on the premises, as well as such other relevant information as the Police Department, Fire Department and Building Department may require.
- (6) Written declaration by the applicant, under penalty of perjury, that the foregoing information contained in the application is true and correct, said declaration being duly dated and signed in the Township of Huron.

SECTION 6. CONDITIONS OF LICENSE.

No Flea Market License may be granted pursuant to this Ordinance unless the following conditions have been satisfied or unless the condition is waived by the Township Board of Trustees for good cause shown.

- (a) No signs advertising a sale regulated by this ordinance shall be placed on public property or within the public right-of-way or on any utility pole or on any private property, except that one (1) sign advertising the sale may be placed on the property of the owner.
- (b) The license authorizing such sale shall be displayed in some prominent place, clearly visible from the street, at the location where the sale is being conducted.
- (c) Sales regulated by this ordinance shall not be conducted in temporary structures.
- (d) No sales regulated by this ordinance shall be conducted in Public Parks.
- (e) The minimum area of the site shall be twenty-five thousand (25,000) square feet with a minimum street frontage of one hundred (100) feet.
- (f) A five (5) foot fence or wall shall be constructed along the rear and sides of the lot, capable of keeping paper and other debris from blowing off the premises.
- (g) A Flea Market shall provide suitable health, sanitary and toilet facilities.
- (h) Lighting shall be installed in a manner which will not create a traffic hazard on abutting streets or a glare or direct illumination on to adjacent properties.
- (i) Off-street parking areas shall be paved or hard-surfaced or have an acceptable substitute surface.
- (j) No over-night camping or camping in campers, mobile homes, tents or motorhomes shall be permitted upon any premises where such Flea Market Sales are being conducted.

SECTION 7. LICENSE FEE.

A license fee in the amount of Two Hundred and Fifty ($250.00) Dollars shall be paid to the Township of Huron at the time of submittal of the application for a Flea Market license, which license shall continue in effect from the date of issuance until December 31 of that year.

SECTION 8. ISSUANCE OF LICENSE.

Upon receipt of the Application for License, the Clerk shall refer the same to the Fire Department, Police Department and the Building Department who shall review the same and determine whether the conditions of this Ordinance have been complied with and whether all other pertinent existing state and local fire, safety and building regulations have been satisfied. Thereafter a written report thereon by each agency shall be submitted to the Clerk.

After consideration of the reports submitted by the above agencies and after review of the Application submitted and any other pertinent information, the Township Clerk shall issue the license if all provisions of this Ordinance have been satisfied.

The Township Clerk shall deny issuance of the license if any provision of the Ordinance is not complied with and shall immediately notify the applicant in writing of the reasons for denial. The application shall be either approved or denied within thirty (30) days of receipt of the application unless the Township Clerk can clearly demonstrate the need for additional time for review.

SECTION 9. EXEMPTIONS.

The following are exempted from the regulations of this Ordinance.

- (a) Persons selling goods pursuant to an order of a court of competent jurisdiction.
- (b) Persons acting in accordance with their powers and duties as public officials.
- (c) Any persons conducting a garage sale, attic sale, lawn sale or rummage sale, as defined in Section 3 hereof.
- (d) Any sale regulated under any other provisions of the Ordinances of the Township of Huron.
- (e) Any bonafide charitable, eleemosynary, religious, educational, cultural or governmental institution, provided, however, that the burden of establishing the exemption under this subsection shall be on the organization or institution claiming such exemption.
- (f) Auction by lawfully qualified auctioneer.

SECTION 10. LICENSE REVOCATION.

The Township Clerk shall have the power to revoke the license granted pursuant to this Ordinance at anytime for any of the following causes:

- (a) License holder committed a fraud, misrepresentation or false statement contained in the application for license.
- (b) License holder committed significant violation of this Ordinance
- (c) License holder conducted business in an unlawful manner or in such a manner so as to constitute a serious and significant breach of the peace or a serious and significant threat to the health, safety or general welfare of the public.

SECTION 11. APPEAL FROM DENIAL OR REVOCATION.

Should an applicant be denied a license or should a license holder have a license revoked, he may appeal that action to the Board of Trustees by submitting a letter to the Township Clerk's office. Such appeal must be filed within ten (10) days of the action complained of or the applicant or license holder waives his appeal rights. A hearing on the denial or revocation will then be scheduled for the next regular meeting of the Board or a special meeting to be held within fifteen (15) days of the appeal. The Board will render a written decision on the appeal within ten (10) days of said hearing.

SECTION 12. SEVERABILITY.

The various parts, sections and clauses of this ordinance are hereby declared to be severable. If any part, sentence, paragraph, section or clause is adjudged unconstitutional or invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the remainder of the ordinance shall not be affected thereby. All other ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance are, to the extent of such inconsistencies, hereby repealed.

SECTION 13. PENALTIES.

Any person, firm, group, corporation, or organization violating any of the provisions of the ordinance shall upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine of not more than Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars or imprisonment for a period of not more than ninety (90) days, or to both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the Court.

SECTION 14. EFFECTIVE DATE.

This ordinance shall take effect thirty (30) days after publication in the legal newspaper.

CERTIFICATION

The foregoing is hereby certified to be a true copy of an Ordinance adopted by the Huron Township Board at a regular meeting held at the Township Hall on the 13th day of July, 1983. A copy has been inserted into the Ordinance Book of the Township.

potpourri

By Lee Smith
Suburban Living Editor

A frenzied bout with the curling iron this a.m. (instead of curling my bangs, I straightened them — straight out, not down) left me in somewhat of a panic since I was due at work in 45 minutes. After hastily dampening said strands and winding 'em around a couple brush rollers, I wheeled out of the garage with the vent blowing full-force on my forehead, figuring three-quarters of an hour should do the trick.

Having never learned the special touch which electric rods and blow dryers require, I was taking rather a chance on my out-in-public day. (The results were not what I'd hoped for but at least I didn't end up with a Dagwood Bumstead or Skeeze profile.)

As I toiled along the backroads which take me to Belleville each Thursday, I couldn't help but think back to another era when curling irons — non-electric ones — were the norm for m'lady's coiffure. It brought to mind, too, that forgotten breed of American — the unsung hero of another day — the traveling photographer.

Those fellas would just "show up" — suddenly be knocking on your door — to see if "the Missus" would like a picture made of her family.

I've no idea how many shutterbugs had been turned down during our youth (we weren't too flush in those early days) but I do recall a few times they got the nod from Mom.

Then she'd dash about getting us in spit-and-polish condition. The session that's etched most clearly in my mind is the one that produced probably the cutest picture of us kids. It involved two pair of high white shoes for the four and two-year-old brothers which I had to polish while Mom got them (and the seven-year-old) scrubbed, combed and into their bell-bottomed dark blue sailor suits — three little boys made miserable by having to get cleaned up! Brother Number Four was missing from the portrait since he was barely on the horizon and not due for another six months.

My outfit, which also included white footwear in need of a touchup, was in matching navy. A skirt and lace edged white blouse with a Peter Pan collar, it had a short-sleeved bolero-length jacket with the front panels joined by a strip embroidered with tiny flowers. I remember that little suit well, not because I come across the photo occasionally, but because I got to wear it only "for good" and absolutely loved getting dressed up in it! For cappers, there was a big white bow in my hair.

Ah — The hair! The very last job my Mom tackled at moments such as those was my obstinate ramrod-straight hair which went limp as fast as it was curled. Being a rush job, it meant that dreaded curling iron which had to be heated directly in the flame of the stove, then tempered just a bit by clamping the fiery rod on a piece of paper.

I don't really know if Mom was just in too big a hurry, if perhaps I was a wiggle-worm or if she was as untalented as I in the hair styling department but she always managed to singe the tip of my ear or the back of my neck at those harried times.

Needless to say, I wanted to run and hide whenever anyone with a camera came near.

From the many pictures tucked away in family albums, far and away the best are those taken by roving photographers. And in everyone, there I am with my impromptu curls — evidence that Mom sure never spared the rod!

ICE CREAM, YOU SCREAM, WE SHOULD HAVE ALL SCREAMED...

I don't know how it could happen, but no one had ever told me, nor had I ever read, that there was such an observance as National Ice Cream Week. And, folks, I'm sorry to say it's all in the past for 1983 — all that hoop-de-doin', sponsored by the Dairymen, Inc. of Louisville, took place July 10-16.

It's a time not only to honor farmers who produce the product from which ice cream is derived, but also to honor ice cream eaters, one of the few "clubs" in which I'm a charter member. Had I been aware of this earth-shakingly important event, I'd certainly have passed it on to those of you who care and recognize immediately that Heavenly Hash, Rocky Road, Pralines and Cream, Caramel Cashew and Lemon Custard are all flavors of that wonderful stuff.

Can you imagine having a whole week dedicated to ice cream? Being one of that "industry's" most avid consumers, I'm disappointed to admit I didn't receive a single greeting card wishing me "well" or "congratulations" or "sympathy."

I am happy to admit I contributed to the Dairymen, Inc.'s profits by having that terribly sinful and pleasurable dessert at least four times during the "celebration." I did my part in furthering the longevity of the product, how 'bout you?

TRIVIA, ANYONE?

- The first American war submarine was constructed in 1776. It was called the "turtle" and carried a crew of one.
- It takes 225,000 hand-picked stamens of the Crocus sativus to yield a pound of saffron.
- The nearest relative of the hippopotamus is the common pig.
- Alexander the Great made his soldiers keep clean shaven so the enemy couldn't grab them by their beards.
- The first known use of the expression "A-1" was said to be by Lloyd's of London, the British insurance organization. Lloyd's graded ships according to the risk of insuring them and those rated "A-1" were thought least likely to sink.
- The onion was regarded by the Romans as a god who guarded the kitchen and guided the healing of battle wounds and skin diseases.
- Some 98 percent of American households contain at least one television set.
- A vanilla bean is actually the dried fruit of an orchid.
- Paper makes up most of the waste found in the average American's trash can.
- About 57 percent of Americans say they believe in UFO's.
- The largest clams in the world weigh close to 500 pounds!
- A whale's heart beats only nine times a minute.
- The first sidewalk in the U.S. was laid in 1657 on a New York thoroughfare called Stone Street.
- Seals sometimes swim 6,000 miles over a period of eight months without once touching land.
- The greatest mountain range lies under the sea. It is known as the Dolphin Rise and it extends from the Arctic to the Antarctic through the Pacific.
- The kitchen of a monastery in Portugal was built to accommodate the Alcoa River which flows through it, providing a supply of fresh fish every day of the year.

TEE TIME

First golfer: I've been taking golf lessons — spent $3,000 already.
Second golfer: That's a shame. You should call my brother.
First golfer: Is he a golf pro?
Second golfer: No, he's a lawyer. He'll help you get your money back.

THE BOTTOM LINE: Nothing keeps a family together like having one car in the shop.

In early July ceremony

Crider, Ulbick repeat vows, exchange rings

In an afternoon ceremony July 9 at Lakeside Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses in Belleville, Shelley Ulbick and Larry Crider spoke their nuptial vows and exchanged wedding bands.

Mr. Harvey P. Bourke presided at the five o'clock rite before some 200 assembled relatives and friends including the young couple's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell P. Ulbick of East Columbia Avenue, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Crider of Oakwood Boulevard, Dearborn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a toe-touching gown of ivory lace over satin which she had made for her wedding day. Designed with a high neckline and short puffed sleeves, the bodice was embellished with lace trim.

Her elbow-length veil of ivory tulle was caught to a tilt-brimmed hat accented with flowers and her bouquet, comprised of cascading stephanotis and baby's breath, was centered with three lavender lilies and white roses.

As her sister's honor attendant, Tracy Ulbick of Belleville donned a ballerina-length gown of lavender georgette styled with a slim skirt and matching blouson jacket with a high rolled collar. Her dress and those worn by the four bridesmaids were all made by the bride.

Walking down the aisle in identical ensembles were Londa Kissel of Belleville; Melanie Ulbick of Fenton, sister-in-law of the bride; Robin Durden of Belleville, sister of the bride; and Debbie Johnston of Romulus. They all held bouquets fashioned of sea shells with cascading purple orchids, baby's breath and darker lavender streamers for contrast.

Four-year-old Danelle Kemeter, a cousin of the bride, wore a little lavender taffeta frock for her role as flower girl. She tucked sprigs of baby's breath tied with lavender ribbons in her hair and carried a basket filled with mixed blooms.

Best man was Joseph Aric of Belleville. The corps of ushers included Kurt Ulbick of Fenton and Scott Ulbick of Belleville, brothers of the bride; Steven Durden of Belleville, brother-in-law of the bride; and Nishan Artinian of Belleville.

At the Wayne Community Center, where the reception was held, Mrs. Ulbick greeted some 325 guests in a street-length dress of soft peach georgette to which she pinned her corsage of tea roses.

A soft blue crepe frock in afternoon length was the choice of Mrs. Crider for her son's wedding. Her corsage was comprised of white roses.

The newlyweds, who are employed by the City of Belleville, spent their honeymoon in Northern Michigan. The new Mrs. Crider is employed in the City Treasurer's office and her husband is an officer in the Belleville Police Department.

An outdoor cookout at the home of the bride's parents followed the rehearsal.

Anjanette Stoltz participating in SSTP at University of Iowa

Anjanette Stoltz, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Stoltz of Belleville, who will be a senior at St. Mary Academy in Monroe, has been accepted at the University of Iowa this summer as a Special Student to participate in the Secondary School Training Program (SSTP). She is enrolled in an 8-week program running June 6 to July 29 along with 20 other students from various parts of the USA. Some 60 others are enrolled in a 6-week program.

Those in the 8-week session are individually assigned to some department at the University to work on an individual project. Anjanette is working in the Cardiovascular Surgery Department under Professors, Dr. Nelson J. Guril MD and David G. Reynolds PhD. Dr. Nelson is a staff surgeon at the University Hospital and oversees Anjanette's work which involves day-to-day work with research assistants in the surgery laboratories.

Her project involves the role of endorphins in the body during shock. Endorphins are morphine-like substances produced within the body and secreted into the bloodstream when the body enters a stressful situation. The places of secretion are numerous; however, the adrenal glands are among the most significant. As the name suggests, endorphins act like morphine and during shock they depress the heart.

In the laboratories, experiments are conducted to counteract the effect of endorphins by treating animals (dogs and monkeys) with a drug called Naloxone. Naloxone reverses the shock situation and increases the animals' survival rates.

Each day Anjanette works in the laboratory from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., operating on dogs and monkeys by performing "femoral shutdowns." They then bleed the animals in order to put them into shock and subsequently treat the animals with Naloxone. Their blood is then reinfused and their wounds are sewn. During the entire operation, several parameters are monitored for changes due to the Naloxone treatment.

In the five weeks she has been in the program, Anjanette has learned a great deal. She has acquired some knowledge of cardiovascular physiology and she had been instructed on the techniques necessary to perform surgery on animals.

Additionally, the SSTP program has given her the opportunity to meet students from many other states and professors from the large science departments at the University of Iowa. It has been an extremely beneficial experience and Anjanette would recommend the SSTP program to any student considering a scientific career.

WOTM notes

Women of the Moose, Chapter 1135 of Belleville, held its College of Regents Chapter Night recently with 36 visiting Collegians from Ann Arbor, Dearborn Heights, Ypsilanti and Wyandotte in attendance. A Red Tassel Ceremony in honor of Lois Anguilm took place with Investiture Marietta Keiner. Enrollment was held in honor of Doris Martilla, College of Regents, 1983, who presented a brief talk on her background and early days in Women of the Moose. She was later presented with gifts. Six new candidates recently enrolled were Kimberly Mackey, Delphine Dudek, Marcia Weinberg, Brenda Kiesel, Liz Ray and Linda Endicatt. A light lunch followed with a raffle and prizes for all. Phyllis Blank is the new Recorder and Jeanie Lee the new social service chairman.

Fletcher Knebel said it.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT COOK

Bob Cooks honored on silver anniversary

The 25th anniversary of their marriage was observed June 26 by Robert and Agnes Cook of 9569 Morton Taylor Rd., Belleville. Married on June 21, 1958 at St. Aloysius Catholic Church in Romulus, the couple renewed their nuptial vows at St. Anthony's in Belleville. The Rev. Raymond Skoney presided at the rite during the ten o'clock mass on June 26.

Robert Cook and the former Agnes Wisniewski, both lifetime residents of the area, are the parents of four children: Connie Testorelli, David, Mark and Carrie who, along with Connie's husband James, played host at a dinner-dance reception at the PNA Hall. Assisting with the party preparations were Mrs. Cook's parents, Frank and Mary Wisniewski and her sister, Virginia Miller.

Members of the 1958 wedding party in attendance were Richard Cook of Romulus; Stanley Wisniewski and Alice Sorieta, both of Canton; Frank Rochowiak of Dearborn; Virginia Miller of Ann Arbor and Joanne Mason of Wayne.

Some 175 guests from Livonia, Westland, Romulus, New Boston, Northville, Flat Rock, Ann Arbor and Hillsdale were on hand for the celebration.

Active in community affairs, Mr. Cook served for nine years on the Van Buren School Board and is vice-president of PNA Lodge 2984. His wife is vice-president of St. Anthony's Ladies Guild and both are members of St. Anthony's Catholic Church and are leaders of the High Flyers 4-H Club. Mr. Cook is employed at the Ford Motor Company in Wixom and Mrs. Cook at Vasko's Family Restaurant in Belleville.

In the community

By Mrs. Joseph Spring 697-7049

The 16th annual Artley family reunion was held June 25, at the home of Ann and Don Smith on Quirk Road. Some 70 people were present including Nola Artley of Flat Rock who had the honor of being the eldest present. Jeffrey Nielend of Cheboygan was the youngest. Traveling the farthest were Dan and Mary Smith from Canyon City, Col.

After a potluck dinner, games were played under the direction of Wendy Nielend and Ann Smith. Officers elected for the coming year were Jerry Mason of Saline, president; Mildred Artley of Belleville, secretary, and Cora Bradshaw of Belleville, treasurer. Next year's reunion will take place at the home of the president in Saline.

Seventeen members of Elwell Cluster Girl Scout Troop #589 along with three adults traveled to Jackson to camp at Big Portage Lake July 7-10. While on their campout, the girls visited the Wild Kingdom Safari, Irish Hills and the Jackson Cascade Waterfalls.

The Brighton Rainbow Girls held their annual Founder's Day picnic at the home of their Mother Advisor, Mrs. Rose Welt of Willis Road, on Saturday, July 9.

Sandra Fisher of Lake LeAnn in Jerome, Mich. was a visitor recently at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Esther VanDerVoort.

Peter Korgal celebrated his birthday on Sunday, July 10, with his wife and three children; his mother Mrs. Frances Korgal, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Schultz and family, Sophie Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Rose and Stacy Korgal.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton along with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welt traveled to Plymouth this past weekend to view the hot-air balloon display.

Patricia and Rodney Helton enjoyed their Fourth of July dinner at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Helton, along with his brothers, Chuck, Ken and Tim.

Newcomers on the scene

Lindsay Rae Gardner

"Lindsay Rae" is the title chosen for the baby daughter born July 1 to Mark and Rachael Gardner of 344 Stanford, South Lyon.

The infant, who made her debut at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor, is the couple's first child, her mother, the former Rachel Wilson, being a 1976 alumna of Belleville High School currently working at Comshare, Inc. of Ann Arbor.

The 7 lb.-6 oz. newcomer is the granddaughter of Pat Wilson of Belleville and Betty and Jerry Gardner of South Lyon.

Elizabeth Emily Davis

Three-year-old Nathaniel Benjamin Davis has a new baby sister and future playmate he's helping to care for these mid-summer days. Her name is Elizabeth Emily and she arrived at 8:04 a.m. May 20 at Seaway Hospital in Trenton.

Parents of the 8 lb.-1 oz. infant, who measured 20 inches, are Harry and Gail Davis of 421 Cherry, Trenton. Mrs. Davis being the former Gail Freysinger.

Elizabeth is the fourth grandchild for John and Frances Freysinger of Belleville. Her paternal grandmother is Helen S. Z. Davis of Trenton.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN L. SCHEERER

Scheerers feted on 60th year

An open house on June 18 marked the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Scheerer of 8966 Whitehorn, Romulus, residents of the area for some 10 years.

Given by their daughter and son-in-law, Violet and Newell McNeil of Romulus, the party was attended by some 70 guests from St. Catherine's, Stratford and Guelph, Ont., Canada, and several cities in Michigan. Assisting were the Scheerer's granddaughter and husband, Sue and Sam Hartford and family of Maybee, and a grandson, Brian McNeil, his wife Linda and family of Taylor.

Now 83-years-old, Mrs. Scheerer was Susan Hutchinson of Stratford, Ont. when she married John L. Scheerer, now 79, on June 21, 1923. Their union resulted in one daughter, three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mr. Scheerer is a Ford Motor Company retiree, having worked at the Rouge plant for some 45 years.

Short subjects

For a nice change of pace at a summer cookout, feature beef short ribs on the grill. Actually, you'll only want to finish the ribs over the coals for preliminary cooking in moist heat is recommended for this less tender cut.

To precook, simply place short ribs in large frying pan or Dutch oven, cover tightly and cook at low to moderate temperature 1½ hours, turning occasionally. Pour off drippings.

Season ribs with salt and pepper, add ½ cup water and cook slowly, covered, 30 minutes or until tender. Remove ribs, dip in barbecue sauce to coat all sides and place on grill. Cook at a moderate temperature 20 to 30 minutes, brushing with sauce and turning occasionally.

When cooking beef on the grill, be sure to plan for hearty appetites. It's generally recommended that you allow the following amounts per person: ¼ to ½ pound ground beef, ½ pound boneless beef and ½ to 1 pound beef with bone.

Sarah Lynn Pych

Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit was the delivery point for the 7 lb.-10½ oz. package which was welcomed July 6 by John and Linda Pych of Hannan Road, Romulus.

Arriving at 9:08 a.m. and measuring 19¼ inches, Sarah Lynn is the couple's second child, their first being Kevin Michael, who's three-years-old.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walls and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pych, all of Belleville, are the children's grandparents.

Their mother is the former Linda Ferguson.

Laura Marija Geldys

"Laura Marija" is the name chosen by Suzanne and Jerry Geldys of 8505 Fenton, Dearborn Heights, for their first child who put in her appearance July 2 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The 7 lb.-5 oz. infant, who measured 20½ inches in length, is the new granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stasys Geldys of Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Macbrair of Sarasota, Fla. Great-grandmother honors go to Mrs. Marija Baziliaus Kas of Detroit.

Lori Kay Meza

The birth of their second daughter, Lori Kay, is announced by Luis and Shari Meza of 1125 Zephyr Ave., Ypsilanti. Arriving at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor at 8:14 a.m., the newcomer weighed 6 lbs.-6½ ozs. and measured 19½ inches.

The new baby sister of Roselynn Meza, who's 15-months-old, she is the newest addition to the family trees of Lois and Harold McArthur of Belleville and Rosa and Lautaro Meza of Ann Arbor.

Lori's great-grandparents include Hugh McArthur and Nellie Sarkinen, both of Belleville, and Rosa O'Neil of Ann Arbor.

News on our grads

Three Freysingers receive degrees

College graduations and degrees came in threes this year at the home of John and Frances Freysinger of Belleville. Their daughter, Beverly, completed two graduate programs, receiving a Doctorate in pharmacy and certificate in specialist in aging from the University of Michigan where she is a member of Rho Chi honor society.

She recently presented a poster discussion at the American Society of Hospital Pharmacists Annual meeting in Detroit. On July 25 she will start as a clinical research assistant at Burroughs Wellcome Pharmaceutical in North Carolina with a teaching appointment at the University of North Carolina.

Robert Freysinger graduated with a Masters of Divinity from the Methodist Theological School in Delaware, O. While in school he served as a student Associate Pastor at Maize Manor United Methodist Church in Columbus, O.

He also developed the Chaplain Program at the Delaware Park Care Center, a convalescent and nursing complex. He was appointed pastor of two small churches, Brookfield and Center Eaton, near Charlotte, Mich. in October, 1982.

Edward Freysinger graduated with a Bachelor of Business Administration degree, with concentration in management, from Eastern Michigan University.

A member of Beta Gamma Sigma honor society, he will start on a Master's Degree program in hospital administration at the University of Michigan this fall.

Miss Freysinger and Edward are graduates of Belleville High School while their brother, Robert, is an alumnus of Lahser High School in Bloomfield Hills.

Local student inducted into business honorary

Lynette Bailey of Belleville was one of 332 students inducted into Sigma Iota Epsilon at Central Michigan University May 7. Sigma Iota Epsilon is a scholastic business and management honorary.

Shelly Wolff of Nashville won this year's Wall Street Journal Award. The award is presented to the outstanding senior in the School of Business Administration. Stephen Ryan of Grand Rapids received the Sigma Iota Epsilon scholarship, a $500 award presented to the top junior in the School of Business Administration.

Music graduates at Sienna Heights

At Siena Heights College's 62nd Commencement Ceremony, Sunday, May 15, 345 degrees were awarded including 54 associate's, 272 bachelor's, and 19 master's.

Dr. Robert Coles, professor of psychiatry at Harvard Medical School and Pulitzer Prize winning author of the "Children of Crisis," gave the address. He encouraged the graduates to "take intellectual knowledge and put it into the service of God's wisdom."

David A. Music of Belleville was awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration.

EMU recongizes scholarship winners

Eastern Michigan University's Office of Financial Aid has announced that 747 Michigan high school and community college students have been selected to receive the University's Recognition of Excellence Award for 1983-84.

Additional awards will be announced in upcoming weeks.

Eastern's Recognition of Excellence Award is a $1,000 annual award. Recipients must have a minimum of 3.5 grade point average and have demonstrated leadership ability. Preference is given to high school students who score at least a 20 on the American College Test or a 900 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

Belleville recipients include Tami Harkai, 45131 Venetian; Gregg Helzerman, 47984 Bemis Road; Linda Johnson, 42797 Fret

Road, Shannon S. Quinlan, 43665 Crowley; Gregory Sturtz, 40985 Harris Road; and Lisa Zynda, 49575 W. Huron River Drive.

Those honored from New Boston are Philip Andrew, 18878 Hannan Road of Greenhills School and Wade Tacket, 37500 S. Huron Road, of Catholic Central High School.

A trio from Romulus includes Bruce Canejo, 16375 Dodge of Huron High School; Sandra Mattson, 14228 Hannan Road of Belleville High School and Sheryl Paton, 34583 Julie Drive, of Romulus High School.

Romulus students make Dean's List

Two hundred forty-four Adrian College students were named to the Dean's List for the 1982-83 spring semester. To achieve this honor, a student must maintain a 3.50 grade point average (4.00 = A) on the basis of at least 12 credit hours.

Among those who earned the distinction were: Russell Ayers, 8685 Kenwood, Romulus, senior psychology major; Therese Caldwell, 32345 Prescott Rd., Romulus, senior biology major; and James Thomas, 38434 Barth, Romulus, senior health-physical education-recreation major.

Q&A

Q. Why are cucumbers sometimes bitter?

A. Some varieties are inherently more bitter than others, so choice of variety is a factor. Within a given variety, however, it appears that any conditions that place the plant under stress can result in bitter fruit. Drought, high temperatures and low soil fertility are the most common. Periodic, light applications of fertilizer, mulching to slow the loss of water from the soil and more frequent watering when temperatures are high may reduce the incidence of bitter fruits.

Q. My neighbor says tomatoes and muskmelons ripen better if you trim off the leaves that shade the fruits. Is this true?

A. Removing leaves from these plants isn't a very good idea for a couple of reasons. The leaves, through photosynthesis, produce the food (sugar) that the plants need to grow and produce fruits. Removing the leaves reduces the amount of food a plant can produce and channel into fruit production. It also exposes the fruits to the sun. Tomatoes, especially, are likely to get sunburned.

Q. What can I do about corn smut? It's cropped up in my garden for the past two years.

A. Prune away the growths and burn them before they break open. The powdery gray stuff inside contains the spores of the fungus that causes the disease. It can overwinter in the soil and become an annual problem unless you break the cycle. Some varieties are most susceptible than others, so changing varieties might help. Growing corn in a different spot each year is another option.

Belleville man is GMI graduate

A Belleville area student was among 423 graduates of GMI Engineering & Management Institute honored during June commencement ceremonies in Flint.

Gerald D. Roberson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Larkin of Belleville, has earned a Bachelor's Degree in Industrial Administration. He has been sponsored in the GMI program by Chevrolet-Central Office in Warren.

GMI operates on a 5-year plan of cooperative education and offers four accredited degrees in engineering and industrial administration.

She's earned her Master's

Allison Slavick, the daughter of Earl and Georgia Slavick of 50960 Bog Rd., Belleville, has received her Master of Science degree in biological sciences from Michigan Technological University at Houghton.

A 1975 alumna of Lincoln High School, she is currently employed at New York Botanical Gardens.

Zollers play host at first reunion of Sucharski clan

Descendants of the late Frank and Mary Sucharski, who emigrated from Poland and settled in Posen, Mi., gathered for their first family reunion Sunday, July 3, at the Haggerty Road home of Harry and Sophie Zoller.

Responses came from as far away as Texas, Arizona, Florida, Massachusetts, New York, Illinois and many parts of Michigan. Dinner, lots of picture-taking, exchanging of addresses and reminiscing filled the afternoon for the group of 150. A special photo display area was provided for those who had brought pictures of others unable to be present.

From the youngest, 2-year-old Krystin Mikula of Troy, to the eldest, Captain John Sucharski of Cheboygan (of Bob-lo boat fame), clansmen enjoyed games of volleyball, badminton, table tennis, mini-golf, horseshoes and Frisbie. Youngsters were fascinated by the old-fashioned "country pump", which produced water with a little elbow-motion, in the backyard gazebo.

Two Fourth of July birthdays were celebrated with a huge surprise cake for Sister Mary Frumentia of St. Hedwig's Parish in Detroit and her niece, the aforementioned Krystin Mikula.

BPW meeting takes on Hawaiian Isle facade

Thirty-one members and guests of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) gathered recently at the home of Virginia Melcher for their July meeting which was highlighted by a Hawaiian luau.

The club's newest members, Sandy Butler, Virginia Melcher, Eleanor Kostecki, Laverne Finley, Marilyn Montgomery, Mildred Baker, Sharon Collins and Judy

Taylor, were in charge of the arrangements and food preparation. Hawaiian beverages were served along with a variety of Polynesian-theme dishes. The group was invited to enjoy the coolness of the pool following dinner.

At the short business meeting, which was conducted by Faye Sotomayor, president, several items were placed on the club calendar including the August potluck picnic at the home of Sophie Zoller.

The Fall State Board Meeting will be held in Flint, Sept. 10-11 and will feature a number of workshops for BPW members.

The local club will once again participate in the Belleville Sidewalk Sales July 29 and 30 and will hold its Treasure Chest sale at the corner of Main and High Streets. A wide selection of white elephant items will be available and all will be wrapped in printed paper and colorful ribbons. Profits from the sale will benefit the Scholarship Fund.

Five BPW members will attend the 49th Annual National Convention July 24-28 in Columbus, O. The program will focus on the "voice of working women." Five issues will be emphasized: self-image, economic security, discrimination, comparable worth and political skills.

BPW is an organization to elevate the standards of working women. All employed women are eligible for membership.

Teen driver's ed underway at YW

Summer teen driver's education classes get underway at the YWCA of Western Wayne County with a new session starting the 1st and 3rd Monday each month.

Classroom instruction, lasting 14 hours is scheduled Monday through Wednesday 10 a.m. - 12:00 noon at the YW. Each student will complete four driving periods of 45 minutes. As a convenience, students will be picked up and returned to their homes for the behind the wheel portion of their training.

Normal course completion time is three weeks at a cost of $105. Should a student require additional instruction, more time may be arranged at no additional cost.

our opinions

Taxpayers monies return to Wayne

In many ways the bridge and road repair work started this week on Wayne Road between Michigan Ave. and Glenwood is a welcomed sight for area taxpayers.

We in Michigan have become accustomed to receiving the short end of federal monies compared to other states. Surveys have shown the State of Michigan as ranking near the bottom in terms of federal funds returned here.

That's one factor which makes the Wayne Road project so satisfying. Federal monies, as well as state and County dollars, will bear most of the financial burden of this estimated $850,000 improvement work. The City of Wayne's share will amount to approximately $60,000.

Local taxpayers will actually see firsthand their tax dollars at use during the next few months as construction crews repair the bridge at the Lower Rouge River and resurface and widen Wayne Road.

Community Development Block Grant monies will enable the City to construct three municipal parking lots in the area, allowing for the elimination of parking on Wayne Road. High pressure sodium lighting will be installed thanks to an estimated $13,500 in Emergency Jobs Bill funds.

Sure, motorists and local merchants will be inconvenienced for a time faced with detours and traffic congestion. But the price of this project should bring a smile to everyone's face.

Wayne tax dollars are being returned to Wayne for the benefit of all those who travel along Wayne Road. Wayne city officials and administration must be congratulated for overseeing this massive undertaking. Even the fact that the City of Wayne must advance some of the County's share ($35,000) to be repaid in five years does not diminish the accomplishment.

It's simply nice to see local tax dollars returned to a municipality for a badly needed improvement.

Time for action on landfills

If you were at the Van Buren Township Press Conference last Friday or attended the Huron Township board meeting last week or have been privileged to attend a township or council meeting when landfills and toxic waste come up, you know how frustrating it can be.

Local officials can't stop the state from invading local lands and dumping whatever the Department of Natural Resources say they want to dump.

Sometime on Thursday or early Friday morning some 5,000 to 6,000 yards of toxic waste was dumped in the Wayne Disposal located in Van Buren. That disposal apparently is the only disposal in the area that has a permit to accept the waste product.

The Van Buren incident happened while township supervisor George Craven was in a hospital recuperating from a hand operation. He successfully prevented the Berlin & Ferro people from transporting the highly controversial material into the township a few months ago.

Unfortunately, Mr. Craven and township employees and elected officials were not made aware of the shipment until it was too late to effectively act.

Sumpter is battling the expansion of City Sand and Huron and has a monkey on its back in the form of Environmental Management Systems, Inc., and the residents and Wayne have the infamous Meadows crawling with waste.

It appears that it is a no-win situation.

However, State Rep. Gerald Law (R-Plymouth) has cosponsored a resolution that "would call for a one year moratorium on all issuance of all construction permits for solid waste landfills and hazardous waste facilities."

Although, the resolution will take some time to meander to the floor of the House and Senate and gain approval, Law's bill is an excellent start. True, it would not help the people in Van Buren because Wayne Disposal already has a permit to accept toxic waste, but the resolution will serve notice that the time has come for everyone to work for a solution to cleaning up man's and industry's act.

When you consider that there are, and we're quoting from Law's survey, "over 900 sites in Michigan where groundwater contamination has been caused by faulty landfills." Isn't it time that the Legislature take approximate action?

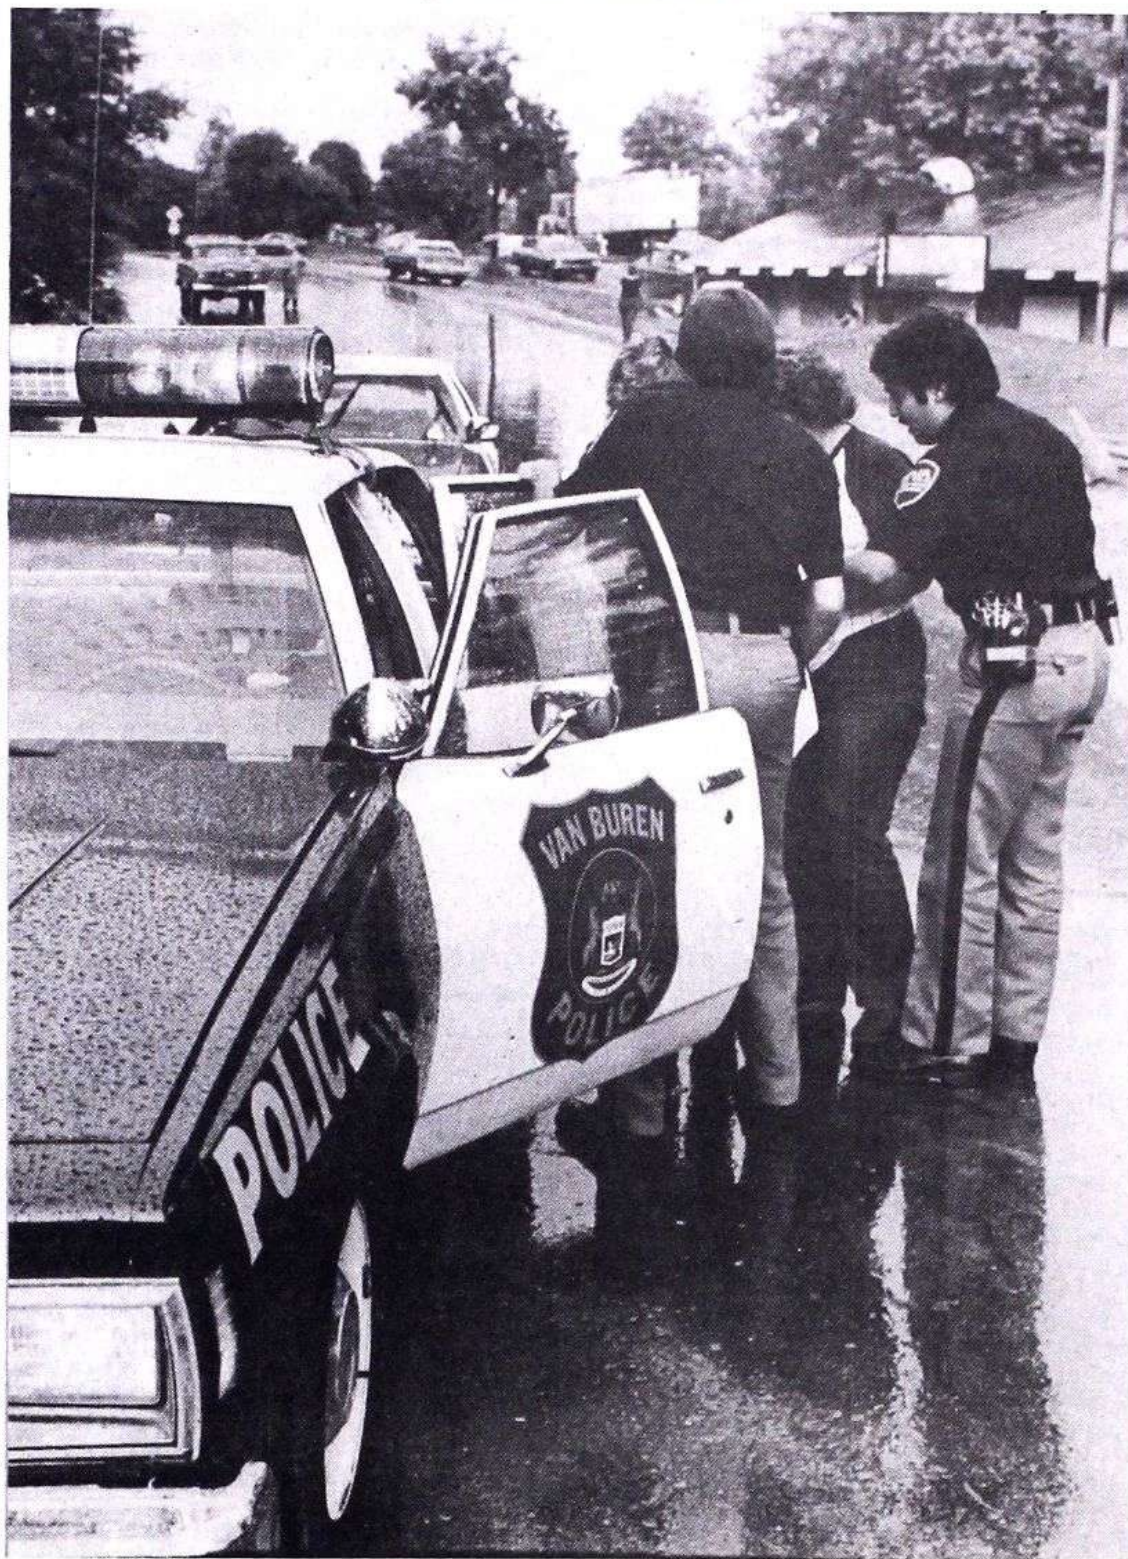

We believe so.

Open letter to Reagan

Recent U.S. actions have intensified the movement toward direct American military involvement in a full-scale Central American war. We, the undersigned members of the Michigan Legislature, oppose all attempts by the Reagan Administration and Congress to further "Americanize" or widen the scope of the current conflict in that region.

American financial support of efforts to destabilize the government of Nicaragua — in violation of international law — have further militarized Honduras, increased repression in Nicaragua, and threatened democracy in Costa Rica.

American policy has intensified conflict along the Honduran-Nicaraguan border and dangerously accelerated prospects of a wider war. This policy jeopardizes America's real long-term interest in friendly relations with the people of Central America.

American involvement in the civil war in El Salvador has escalated dramatically, despite continuing widespread human rights abuses by the Salvadoran government. The Salvadoran government has neither sought nor gained justice for the 35,000 Salvadoran citizens, mostly civilians, largely killed by rightist death squads since 1980.

The murderers of four American missionaries and two American land reform workers have gone unpunished, and the land reform has been stalled. It would be a tragic mistake for the United States government to tie its prestige to a government which has shown such disregard for necessary reforms.

We call upon the United States government to reverse these dangerous trends in its policy toward Central America, and offer its support for immediate negotiations between Central American parties seeking a peaceful solution to the problems of the region.

Sincerely,

Signers of Legislative Statement Against American Military Involvement in Central America

Toxic Waste

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

Jerry Maton is mad.

The Van Buren Township lawmaker is so mad he wants the State of Michigan to dissolve the Department of Natural Resources. The DNR's latest ploy, Maton says, stinks.

"I don't believe the DNR. I feel that when the state created the DNR they created a monster."

Maton's anger stems from last week's unexpected arrival from Flint of approximately 6,000 cubic yards of "light toxic waste". That waste, from the controversial Berlin & Ferro site in Swartz Creek, arrived at the Wayne Disposal in Van Buren while most of the residents and officials were asleep.

"I don't know how safe this stuff is," Maton says. They can tell you that it is safe. But I don't know. I don't believe these people anymore and I don't believe them when they tell us what the composition of this waste is."

James Truchan, a court appointed administrator of the Berlin & Ferro landfill, says that the compound dumped in Van Buren is waste products of the manufacture of agricultural pesticides produced years ago by the now-defunct Hooker Chemical.

"But," Maton continues, "they can lie to us about that, too. Can't they. They have a monopoly thanks to the state laws so they now can control the destinies of every township and city in this state."

Why didn't the township get an injunction and stop the shipment? Force the DNR to go to court and explain their action.

Why didn't the township get an injunction and stop the shipment? Force the DNR to go to court and explain their action.

"Are you kidding? These people people are Lord over everything. They should disband the DNR. They brought this stuff in before we could react to their actions."

The township stopped them the first time around, earlier in the year when a similar shipment was en route, didn't it?

"No," replied Maton. "They had us then, but Mike Ferrantino, the owner of the disposal, refused to accept the shipment. That got us off the hook."

Ferrantino, indicted by a Grand Jury, reportedly sold his interests in the landfill.

Maton said that the first he was made aware of the toxic shipment was via a letter from State Senator William Faust and State Rep. Edward Mahalak who said that the township would be getting the Berlin & Ferro waste.

The trucks were already rolling, so that's how quick the DNR pulled this one off. And, this stuff isn't only going to affect us. Canton is right across the road. There's a shopping center and also Ypsilanti Township. You know I only live a mile or two away from that landfill. If the waste was safe, why didn't they use it as top soil or something?

Good question, Jerry.

Would Mr. Truchan like to handle that one?

JERRY MATON

Canton Chamber appreciates stories

EDITOR — The Canton Chamber of Commerce wishes to express its gratitude to the Associated Newspapers and the staff of the Canton Eagle for the outstanding coverage given to all events held by our organization.

Only by making the community aware of what is happening is it possible for them to take part and make the event a success.

This, in return, allows the Canton Chamber to continue to make contributions and donations to the growing, thriving Community of Canton.

We look forward to continued cooperation between the Canton Chamber and the Canton Eagle.

Prescad clinic must stay open

EDITOR—Speculation has recently surfaced regarding the closing of the Sumpter Township "MIC" Prescad Clinic. This move could be taking place within a few short months much to my dismay.

Staff personnel have already received their layoff notices and the clinic is now operating on a four day week as designated in County Executive William Lucas' budget plan regarding non-essential Wayne County employees.

I decided to print up some newsletters to be distributed to many of the patients, residents and township officials, all of whom have been taken by surprise.

In what looks like a possible merger of hospitals, Prescad would be referring many of its patients back to WCGH, the Oakwood Clinic on Sumpter Rd. and Dearborn's Oakwood Hospital. It seems that Oakwood Clinic would be taking over a few of the Prescad Services, one being complete Dental care and possibly a staff Nutritionist.

Pediatric follow up would be picked up at either WCGH or Oakwood Hospital. The controversy here is that Oakwood Hospital doesn't have Board Certified Pediatricians on its staff, only resident interns but that could very well change if this move does take place.

I foresee transportation problems here if many of Sumpter's patients have to drive all the way out to Dearborn. Many of them attend this clinic because they aren't insured or can't afford medical services.

There are other Prescad Clinics, one in Inkster but it doesn't have an OB-Gyn. Sumpter Pre-scad Clinics offer a variety of services and on staff are Board Certified Pediatricians, also it is my understanding that the Oakwood visits would operate on a paying basis only.

So what is to become of those who have no health care insurance? A point to seriously ponder is the strange fact that for some reason no one at the clinic or in the township really knows who's responsible in handing down the decision to close Prescad.

I confronted Sumpter Township's Supervisor James Reeves and he seemed just as surprised and confused as I was. After placing a few calls, one of his staff did remember receiving a call a few months back from a spokesperson at WCGH regarding the possible transition but why haven't any of the patients been notified?

Secrecy seems to play a large part in this move. Secrecy and fear. Fear that patients might become angry, panicky and all the feedback would roadblock their "pulling the rug out from under us." There remains many unanswered questions here and I hope someone soon is planning on giving us an explanation.

This Community can't seem to hold onto the barest of necessities which would aid the needy and their families, seeing this area is lacking in nearby medical professionals which are few and far between.

There are some people in this very community that welcome filth, unclean and unhealthy landfills while the good clean healthy properties are being scrapped behind our backs and I'm very angry. In speaking with township officials I succeeded in getting this matter put on the "County Talks" agenda that will already have taken place at this writing, so I promise to keep you informed on any further developments. In the meantime maybe there is something we can and should do.

Make it a point to get involved if you care, if not for yourself for those in your communities. We have got to stick together if we're to get anything accomplished.

Keep in mind that if James Reeves is as effective at keeping things in the community as he is at keeping the very harmful things out of our community, we just may keep our clinic.

Baseball program has many merits

EDITOR—I would like to respond to the letter written by Danny Parsley, criticizing the Wayne Junior Baseball program.

My sons have been playing in this program for eight years now. Both are now in the Babe Ruth League.

My husband has been coaching, assisting or managing in Wayne since 1975. As a family we have enjoyed sharing, learning, and playing the game of baseball. We have also suffered through some hard seasons thinking the "people in charge" didn't care.

I remember the five years in the Grapefruit League, my husband and I along with other parents in that league often wondered why Joe Bledsoe wasn't put in charge of the whole program. He was the one who really cared and truly enjoyed teaching those boys and wanted every child in this city to have a chance to play ball.

He is in charge this summer and he still cares and wants the kids to be considered first. That's why we can't have coaches and umpires on the field arguing! That's why we as parents have to be good spectators, watch and enjoy the game, and be good examples for our children, win or lose! That's why coaches have to teach the kids to win games but more importantly, how to lose, too.

Having fun is most important.

As for umpires, they are in charge of the game and must be in control. They are, however, human and do make mistakes. True, some of our umpires are young but everyone has to start somewhere. We have lost a number of umpires this summer because they were intimidated by coaches. What does this teach our kids? This is a new umpires association. Let's give them a chance!

I think our program is on an upswing and will keep improving each year. We have so much going for us now. We have a concerned director, a parent committee, an umpire association, and a number of concerned volunteer coaches. Let's put it all together, help each other, and set good examples for our children. Let's learn from our mistakes this summer and make next year even better. Thank you.

DONNA E. KISSEL

About council, Mayor Pickering

EDITOR—I attended the Westland City Council meeting on July 5th because I had read in The Associated Newspapers Westland Eagle that Fire Station No. 4 (Palmer & Newburgh) would be open only when they had the right number of personnel to run it.

In other words, it may be open one day, closed 2, open 2, closed 4, you would never know when it would be open.

Council told me they found out the same way I did. The paper.

The mayor said he had told them, they said "Oh, No you didn't." Someone here is lying and I have my opinion as to who that person is.

The Fire Department laid off 2 firefighters on Friday, July 1st knowing it was a holiday weekend and then had to call in men over time. Three men also called in sick or took personal leave days on this week-end.

Chief Scott said he had no choice but to grant these leave days.

Anyway, what it all amounted to was $6,000 in overtime July 1st thru July 4th! Stupid time to lay anyone off.

I think the closing of the fire station was a scary political tactic and I don't like it.

The outcome was that the station would not be closed without further talking.

I have read just about every week where Council and the Mayor are up in arms at each other.

What I saw at this meeting was total lack of communication, the left hand not knowing what the right hand was doing.

To have a smooth, efficient government you have to have communication and Westland does not have this.

I think the Council and the Mayor had better set some time aside and get to understanding each other and the issues and getting new contracts with the Fire Fighters Union.

Canton Twp. on the go

EDITOR—Recently, Canton Township completed what I consider one of the happiest, most festive and successful six weeks in the history of the Township. The International Soccer Tournament, the Annual Parade, and the Canton Country Festival were all terrific. It gets bigger and better every year.

This in conjunction with the Post Office, getting on the State Map, recognition of our Senior Citizen's Band, our upcoming Sesquicentennial Celebration, recognition of two of our Policemen by the FBI, other communities requesting our assistance in grants and building programs, acknowledgement from Oakwood Hospital, acknowledgements from local groups of the outstanding service by some of our women, compliments paid to the Police, Fire, Recreation, DPW, and Building Departments for outstanding community service, would indicate that people are generally very happy with the way things are going in the community and with the government employees.

This does not mean that everything is wonderful and rosy, and that we do not have any problems. On a hot, dusty day, or when garbage pick-up is a day late, we all know that there is some taxpayer who is not happy.

I do not single-out any departments previously mentioned, at the expense of any other department. If we missed our paycheck, we all know what department is the most important. If our water was shut off, because of problems in our Water Department, we all know what department was most important. If we did not get personnel to replace lost personnel, we all know what department would be the most important. If people were allowed to build anywhere they wanted, anyway they wanted, we all know what department would be the most important. If the windows did not get cleaned, and the flowers did not get watered, and certain errands did not get carried out, light fixtures were not fixed, pictures did not get hung on the walls, etc., etc., we all know who the most important person is.

What I am trying to say is that none of these things could have happened without the efforts and assistance of all employees and all departments.

I think that there is a new attitude among most of the citizens of Canton Township. This includes the merchants, the average taxpayer, the farmer, and the workers. I sense a spirit that has been brought about by some of the things previously mentioned. I feel that the people have a new sense of pride and confidence in themselves, and the community, which may have existed before, but which was not as prevalent, strong, or obvious. This too, I feel, that the employees have helped create and promote.

I hope that this will continue and that we can all give our best efforts, to improve even more what we have achieved in the last two and a half years.

I have worked with different units and levels of government in approximately 18 states, as high up as Washington, D.C. I have seen, met, and worked with a number of government employees. Some of the employees in this township are among the most dedicated and conscientious employees that I have ever seen. I appreciate that, and so do the taxpayers.

No matter how long we may work or be employed here, it is still only temporary, and the government is in our hands for a short period until someone else replaces us. However, during that time, our sole function is to serve (not to be a servant), but to service the taxpayers as best we can, with as little interference and for the least amount of money.

Again, this is only possible with the total help, cooperation, and devotion of the governmental employees. I think that we have come a long way, and you are doing that job. I appreciate it and I think for the most part, the taxpayers do too.

More festival 'thank you's'

EDITOR—The Canton Parks and Recreation Department's 5th Annual Canton Festival Five Mile Run was a big success, and I would like to thank the following businesses, and organizations for their outstanding help and cooperation:

Classy Chassis Car Wash, Lighthouse Car Wash, Rose Shores Racquetball, McDonalds of Canton, Chuck E. Cheese Pizza Time Theatre, Burger King, Hardees, Arbys, Superbowl, The Canton Police Department, Pepsi-Cola, Westworld, Center Stage, Bob Evans Restaurant, White Castle, and Fellows Creek.

Add to that list the many volunteers who helped make this another fine run.

Wives of silent husbands, beware

Today I was reading an old Cosmopolitan that one of my kids had long ago stashed away in her closet. The article which intrigued me was one written by an eminent psychologist in which he advised wives of silent husbands.

Since I have a silent husband and had a silent father I had always assumed that women were the gabbers and husbands were the quiet ones, and that this was the way it was supposed to be.

Now, I find that instead of being happy the last thirty-eight years gabbing away at old Sphinx, I actually should be nursing an ulcer and planning a divorce or at least a separation.

The good doctor said the only happy marriage was the marriage in which the husband and wife communed. He said no wife could be happy after a full day with chattering youngsters if she couldn't commune with hubby.

Well, now that I knew I had deluded myself all these years and that I was actually dreadfully unhappy, I decided I'd better do something about it.

The good doctor suggested the little woman wouldn't have a silent husband if she would read the sport pages and be able to talk hubby's language.

He also pointed out the vanity is not only a woman's prerogative...that men are just as vain and the wise and happy wife is the wife who can give her husband an honest complement whenever he is around.

After the dinner dishes were finished, I dabbed a bit of perfume behind each ear and on each wrist (another of the doctor's suggestions) and went into the living room and flopped on the sofa opposite the silent muse behind the paper.

"Hi," I said brightly, "you dazzling brute, you!"

This approach didn't even get the paper lowered a bit. There wasn't even a 'humph' behind that paper.

I sniffed at the perfume on my wrists and contemplated this guy I had just found out I was so unhappy with. And then I realized why I hadn't even gotten a 'humph.' After all, a six-foot, 150-pounder isn't really going to take being called a dazzling brute as a serious compliment. So I tried again.

"Hi," I brightly said. "Did I ever tell you I love your profile?"

This time there was almost an audible 'humph.' This encouraged me greatly, so I decided to commune with him on his interests.

"How was your bowling today?" I asked cheerfully.

This really got to him. He lowered his paper and sat there for a brief second and then he said, "This is the golf season!"

"Oh," I chirped, vowing not to let one little upset keep me from getting happy. "Then how was your golf swing?"

Well, this really opened up that old Sphinx. He threw his paper to the floor and I waited tensely for him to leap over and start communing with and making me happy. He took off his glasses and shoved them into his pocket. Honestly, that doctor really knew what he was talking about.

And then this guy who had been making me unhappy for thirty-eight years without my knowing it, leaned over and yelled,

"For God's sake will you stop asking dumb questions when I'm reading the paper?"

I guess my stricken look reproached him, because he leaned back in his chair, stuck his glasses back on his nose and picked up his sports page.

"Just sit there and tell me all about your day," he said not unkindly, "and let me read this damn paper in peace."

gy that has been frozen in his head for a quarter of a century."

That again is only too true. But that frozen ideology, lest we forget, was what endeared a good part of this country to Ronald Reagan and allowed him to become president.

Things were moving too fast. We wanted to slow down. We thought the way to do that was to let the hero of the long-ago movie mags ride to the rescue.

The "underlying backwardness" was what we thought we wanted.

So much for the flip side.

The President's flip side

I've been thinking for a long time about asking President Reagan not to run for office again.

What's stopped me up to now is that the request to President Reagan would be coming from someone he doesn't even know.

Come to think of it, my request would also be coming from someone who, when the man was king of the "B" movies, wasn't even much of a fan. (The "B" movies, if they were records, would be the flip side.)

But even worse, the request would be coming from someone who wasn't even a member of the Grand Old Party.

I don't think you can do that. I mean, if you're going to ask someone to do something like not run for office when they're pretty sure they really would like to, you ought to at least do it as a concerned member of the camp.

So I didn't do it — and now I don't have to, because someone else (and a Republican at that) did it for me.

Kathy Wilson, head of the National Women's Political Caucus, in a speech a couple of weeks ago, said, "Mr. President, one term is enough. For the sake of American women... please step down. Four years is enough. As a matter of fact, it's entirely too much."

This same Kathy Wilson called the president "a dangerous man for American women."

Boy, I'll bet he laughed over that one. Calling that former leading man — that heart-throb of the 40's movie mags — a dangerous man for American women. What a hoot.

But then, to add insult to injury, Pat Bailey, a Republican member of the Federal Trade Commission, and (up to now) one of the few leaders of a national women's group who gets along with the White House, said at that same caucus that, "I have never doubted that the president is a nice man — but benign bewilderment in response to the women's revolution is license to bigotry at all corners of the land."

Hmmmm... "Benign bewilderment". If that isn't a catchword in this age of catchwords...

But Kathy Wilson didn't stop there. She went on to say that, "Ronald Reagan is the only American president ever to be elected on the basis of an ideolo-

'For a good cause'

The Romulus Rotary Club and the Unistrut Corporation recently pooled resources and came up with a $300 cash donation and a color TV set for the Easter Seal Society. Joel Carr (at left), president of the Rotary Club, made the presentation to Sheila Dunn, Easter Seal representative, while Dan Henkel of Romulus and Firth Keyes are also pictured above. The Easter Seal Society is presently offering a day camp to serve Wayne County's youth with disabilities. For Easter Seal information or to make contributions, residents are urged to telephone 722-3055.

Belleville prepares to host annual Wayne County Fair

The summer means a fair and the 37th annual Wayne County Fair is coming to Belleville on August 8 through 13.

Among the exhibits are clowns, horses, sheep, pigs, goats, and antique tractors. What fair would be complete without games and rides?

For the young, Thursday, August 11, is Children's Day. The youngsters can "Talk to the Animals," eat watermelon in a contest or see 4-Hers with special talents. There is even an All-Animal costume contest. The owners dress up their goats, sheep, cattle, pigs and dogs to compete for the best costume.

For the consumer, Thursday evening is also the 4-H Livestock Auction. Buyers have their choice of buying 4-H raised rabbit, poultry, and goats, besides pigs, sheep, and beef. Businesses and people can share the purchase plus using a portion of the cost as a tax deduction. 4-H and F.F.A. will arrange and handle the slaughtering and the processing (including transporting), although the buyer pays the fee for processing and slaughtering.

The fair isn't just for the children or the consumer. All week long, the animals will be shown, starting with the dogs on Monday, August 8 and ending with a rabbit and horse show on Saturday, August 13. An antique tractor pull is Wednesday, as well as other tractor, pony, and truck pulls through the week.

Any questions concerning the fair and its events may be directed to the Fairgrounds on Quirk Road in Belleville at 697-7002. If interested in the 4-H Livestock Auction, contact Connie Testorelli at 721-6576.

Country sound is returning

There's a new sound these days at Greg's Emergency Room. Country and Western.

Or should we say an old sound since Greg's was once a popular Country lounge. Today owner Greg Reid is prepared for a successful return to the Country with a remodelled lounge, a brand new $15,000 sound system and some of the top Country entertainers around.

Opening July 21 for a three week engagement is The Stone Country Band, which has been billed with such performers as Ricky Nelson, Mel Tillis, Jerry Reed, Brenda Lee,

Stone Country Band

The Bellamy Brothers and others. Their recent release, "Halfway to Nashville" and "Hard Times" rates among the hottest selling records at local stores.

The Stone Country Band will perform Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at Greg's, located at Palmer and Merriman across from the Wayne County General Hospital in Westland. On Aug. 11 Cajun will take over the live entertainment, which begins at 9 p.m.

Jack Mollette and the Borderline Express is the featured Country band on Wednesday evenings.

To celebrate its new Country sound, Greg's offers two drinks for one price from 9 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays and no cover charge before 9 p.m. on weekends. Draft beer and drinks are priced at reduced rates until 9 p.m.

Of course, live entertainment and music from a new juke box are complemented by a moderately priced menu.

Among the 99-cent luncheon specials are a one-third pound ground round, two coney islands, breaded veal sandwich, breaded chicken sandwich, fish sandwich, clam strips and wing dings. A 21-piece shrimp meal and a four-piece chicken entree is an affordable $2.50.

On Friday's the all-you-can-eat fish (cod) and chips dinner at $3.25 includes cole slaw, fries, bread and butter.

Numerous promotions throughout the week range from 25-cent hot dogs to special beer prices for athletic teams, an acknowledgement of the lounge's active sponsorship of area sports' squads.

For a complete rundown of upcoming band performances or food and beverage promotions, contact Reid at 595-4888.

"Country is back by popular demand," Reid notes.

Dog match slated in Westland

Nearly 300 dogs, both mixed and purebred, will compete at the annual Obedience Fun Match, sponsored by the Wolverine Dog Training Club on July 24 at the Westland All Purpose Arena, located on Wildwood north of Ford.

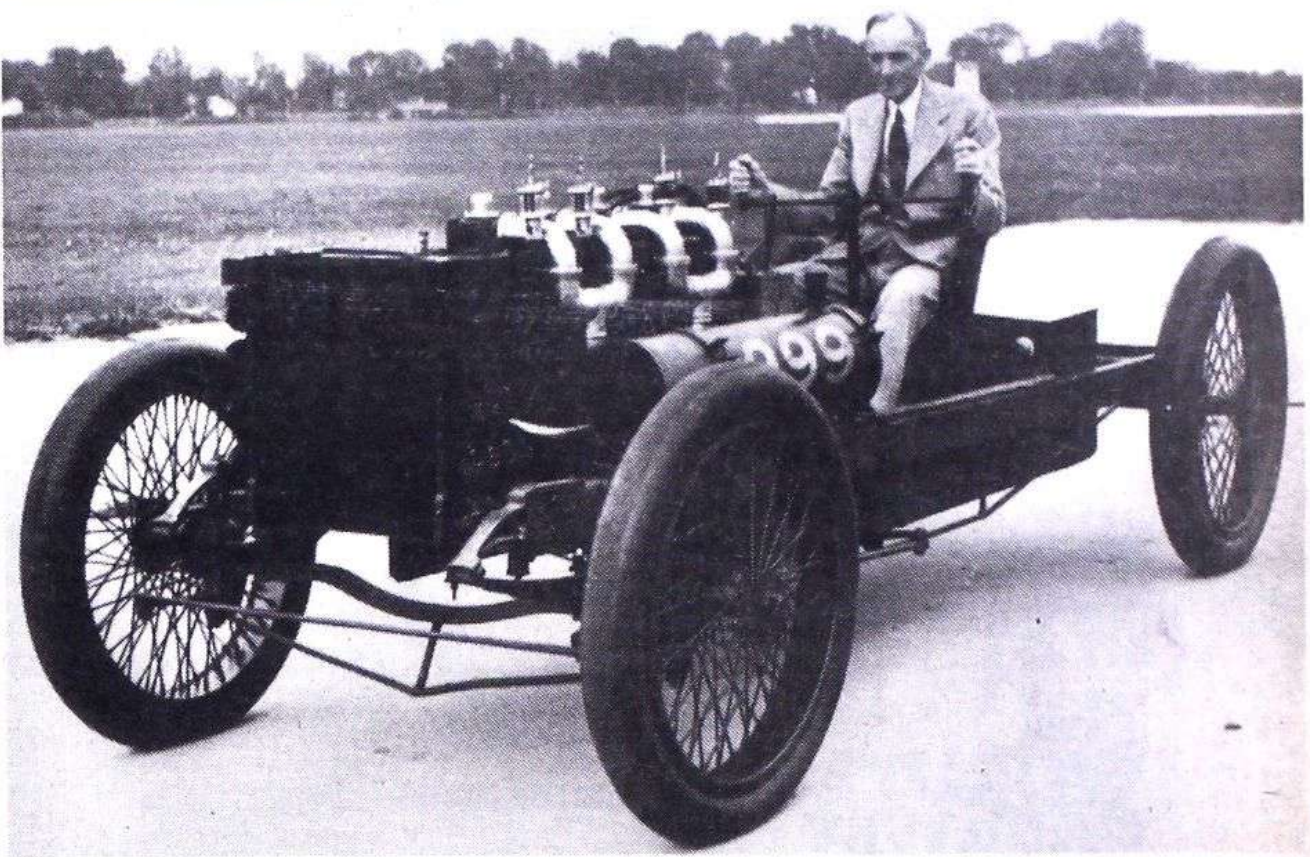

Judging will begin at 10 a.m. with registration to be conducted from 9 a.m. till noon. Judging fees for dogs are $3.50 per entry and there is no admission charge for spectators.

Inquiries regarding the obedience competition can be answered by calling 295-7753 or 425-5163.

The Westland All Purpose Arena also will be the site of the 12th annual World Series of Dog Obedience on July 31 and Aug. 1, presented by the Detroit-Windsor Dog Obedience Association.

Dogs and handlers from around the country will compete for more than $2,500 in prize monies. A $2 admission fee will be charged.

Further details on this event can be obtained by calling 278-0351 or 425-5163.

He was a famous racer, too!

In 1902 Henry Ford designed and built a racing machine, known as the "999." Barney Oldfield won his first race in a yoke-steered "999," and he went on to lower the world's one-mile record with it on five different occasions. A replica of the famous racer, which had one of the largest four-cylinder engines ever put in an automobile, will be on display in the Penney Court of Westland Center, 35000 Warren Road, Westland, through July 29. The "999" set a world's record of 92 miles per hour on the ice of Lake St. Clair in the winter of 1902 among its notable accomplishments.

Murder mystery opens

Frederick Knott's thriller, "Dial 'M' For Murder," and Milan Stitt's courtroom drama, "The Runner Stumbles," have joined the Hilberry Summer Theatre Festival repertory.

"Dial 'M,'" the now-famous Broadway and film melodrama, will alternate with "See How They Run" on the Hilberry main stage through August 6. "The Runner Stumbles" rotates with "Key Exchange" in the Studio Theatre, downstairs at the Hilberry. Performances are scheduled for Wednesdays through Saturdays at 8 p.m.

"Dial 'M' For Murder" is the story of a ruthless husband who married his socialite wife for money and now hires someone to murder her for the same reason. But the murderer gets murdered, the plot twists and turns, and the suspense becomes almost unbearable.

One of theatre's favorite cliffhangers, "Dial 'M'" differs from the usual "whodunit" in that the audience knows all along who the culprit is, but is kept wondering what, if anything, will keep the crime that is committed from being a perfect one.

"The Runner Stumbles" was Michigan born Milan Stitt's first play, opening on Broadway in 1976. The play is based on an actual Michigan trial of a Catholic priest accused of murdering a nun in his charge. Stitt presents the situation with suspense, humor and drama, and explores with great sensitivity the conflict between Catholic dogma and the individual will.

The cast of "Dial 'M' For Murder" includes Maureen McDevitt as the lovely would-be victim, Richard Klausch as her loyal admirer, and Peter Thomson as the murderous (See MURDER Page B-3)

Tennis tournament featured in Wayne

The Wayne Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor singles and doubles tennis tournaments for aspiring Chris Evert Lloyds and Jimmy Connors, during the month of August.

The doubles tournament will be held Aug. 13 and 14, while the singles competition will be held Aug. 20 and 21, both at the tennis courts of Wayne Memorial High School.

The doubles tourney will get underway at 9 a.m. both days, leading off with boys under 18 years, and girls under 18 years. The 11 a.m. matches will be men's and women's play at 11 a.m. and women's over 35 and men's over 35 at 12 noon.

Entry fee will be $4 for the doubles event and $2 for the singles event. First-, second- and third-place trophies will be awarded in each division.

Entries for the doubles tournament must be received by no later than 5 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 11, while the deadline for the singles tournament is 5 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 18.

Players must furnish a can of new tennis balls for each match. The balls must be USLTA-approved. The winner will take the balls to next round, while the loser will keep the used tennis balls.

The matches will be determined by the best two out of three sets. Points will be one, two, three, four, with no-ad scoring. There will be a 10 minute warm-up period, and 30 minutes between matches. There also will be a 15-minute default period. At the end of six games each, there will be a nine-point tie-breaker used to determine the winner.

Entries can be mailed to the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department, 4635 Howe Road, Wayne 48185. For further information contact the recreation department at 721-7400.

I'm not...

Morris H. Moore doesn't believe he's old, even though he celebrated his 96th birthday earlier this year. In fact, that was the message he had for friends, relative and staff of the Middlebelt Hope Center in Westland at a recent talent show. Moore did an oral recitation of "I am not Growing Old" for the program.

NEW RACE
"The First And The Last"
(Statik import)

What happens when one ex-Stooge, one ex-MC5er, and three guys from an Australian group named Radio Birdman get together? Why, they jam of course.

Ron Asheton, who laid down the power chords on Iggy's "I Wanna Be Your Dog" before they were even called power chords, and drummer Dennis Thompson, who moved the MC5 to "Kick Out The Mams" way back when, happened to be in the land down under producing an album for aforementioned Radio Birdman when they all got together, decided to play a gig or two while they were at it, and recorded it.

It's raw, it's powerful, and it makes AC/DC sound like the sissies they really are. There are some MC5 and Ashton numbers, but most are Birdman tunes. Beware! This document is not for the meek of heart.

Golfers eye city championship titles

100 flock to compete in 23rd annual tournament

With a host of unfamiliar names in the field and more than 100 golfers entered, the 1983 City Championship Golf Tournament is "wide open."

"There are a lot of names I haven't seen before," said Bill Hawley, tournament manager, "and whenever you get that kind of situation when there are a lot of unknowns, then anything can happen. "And I believe it will."

The 23rd annual golf tournament will be staged on Saturday and Sunday at Fellows' Creek Golf Course in Canton Township. Golfers will play 18-holes on Saturday and play the final 18 on Sunday.

The golfers will be competing for top honors for the cities of Romulus, Garden City, Wayne, Westland, Inkster and the township of Canton.

"We're asking everyone to make sure they show up at the right time," Hawley said. "We're getting off to a late start because of the golf course's commitment to their regular players, but I'm sure that it won't make any difference to our golfers. They're out there to win."

Last year, 45-year-old Westlander Claud Johnson put together rounds of 75 and 74 for a winning total of 149 to capture the tournament title. It was the second time in a decade that Johnson was the medalist.

Bob King, a veteran golfer from Inkster, who is all tuned up for this one says that he is a contender for that city's title. He said he will equal his age (74) on the par 72 golf course. "I've played in all but two of these tournaments," King said, "and I like the competition. I was out there (Fellows' Creek) the other day and I can categorically say that the course is in great shape."

Golfers who finish in the top five of their respective cities will be eligible to compete in the state Parks and Recreation championship scheduled for sometime in August.

The tournament, sponsored by the Associated Newspapers and the Parks and Recreation departments of the competing communities, is open to male amateur golfers. The rec. departments will award trophies to the top three finishers in each of the flights.

In case of a tie, golfers will hold a "sudden death" playoff to determine the winners.

The medalist (low scorer) for the entire tournament will also receive a championship trophy as well as a trophy for city champ.

Wayne golfers will be playing for the Patrolman Lenny Anderson traveling trophy. Patrolman Anderson was the first Wayne police officer slain in the line of duty.

Fellow's Creek this year will also offer a trophy to the medalist.

Because the tournament has entered the computer age, competitors will find their names and tee off times listed as follows: Tee Off Time, Last Name, First Name and City. (The chart is on the next page).

If a golfer's name isn't listed and he has registered, contact the Associated Newspapers' Sports Desk (729-4000) before 5 p.m. Friday.

3 Romulus softball teams stay undefeated as season ends

With the curtains rapidly falling on the regular season and the playoffs just around the corner, three teams continue to boast undefeated softball records in Romulus Leagues.

In the Sunday League, N.A.P.A., has strung together six straight victories while Taylor A.C. Lounge is riding the crest of an 8-0 record in the Firday Open League A and Johnston-Smith Graphics has an 9-0 mark.

Kurt Johnson had a single and double, while mate Cal Vedder turned in with a pair of two-baggers over Landing Strip. Dave Satnick and Steve Demyan each lined homers for the winners while Jamie Hinajosa had a pair of singles.

Demyan's Antiques needed an extra inning to pull out a 10-9 victory over Landing Strip. Dave Satnick and Steve Demyan each lined homers for the winners while Jamie Hinajosa had a pair of singles.

Bar for its sixth triumph in 14 starts. Sheila Cribbs latched on to a triple and a single, and Cindy Claxton had a single and double.

April Hutchinson had an excellent night at the plate for Bilmar's collecting three singles. Denise Rothey banged out a single and triple for the winners.

Blazing Saddles put five runs on the scoreboard in the first inning then went on to beat Shell Hustlers 13-9. Bev Carney blasted two homers, a double and single and also chased in six runs for the winners. Chris King had a pair of singles and a triple and Bev Horson checked in with a couple of singles.

Mary Much, the winning pitcher, gave up four hits to Karen Houle, while Tracey Barnett and Carol Minda split six hits.

Hilton Airport picked up seven runs and L & W scored five times in the first inning before both teams settled down to a defensive game, but when it was all over Hilton's had a 11-5 victory thanks to a four-run fourth inning rally.

Becky Parr hammered a homer and Debbie Rackozy slammed a single and double for the winners, while Dorothy Fraser and Barb Wilcox each had two hits and Micki McLaughlin belted a two-run double.

Blazing Saddles' Marilyn Much and Chris King each had three hits including roundtrippers to lead their team to a lopsided 20-2 victory over Middlebelt Bar. Cindy Clayton checked in with two hits for the losers.

Shell's knocked out 16 hits en route to a 11-2 victory over Hilton Airport. Winning pitcher Carol Minda had her problems with Diane Summerfield who connected for three singles. Nancy Wands singled and tripled and Alice Leppen carded three singles while Tracey Barnett laced two hits for the winners.

Gail Blanchard's pair of triples and a homer paved the way for Suburban Oil's 15-4 victory over Bilmar's who trailed 12-0 at one span in this mismatch.

Future Olympic champ

Wendy Allstead proved that she is among the top young figure ice skaters in the nation as she captured a silver medal in the 13-to-15 age group at the prestigious Isia Team Championships held in Dallas, Texas recently. A ninth grader at Franklin Junior High School, Wendy is coached by Lisa Agabashian. Wendy has been skating for the past two years at the Wayne Community Center facility.

Tennis tourney set

The Inkster Parks and Recreation Department is sponsoring its annual Open Tennis Tournament which will be held on Aug. 12 through Aug. 14 at the Recreation Complex tennis courts.

The tournament is open to juniors and adults. In the adult division, there will also be singles as well as doubles competition. In the junior division there is a $4 registration fee. The adults will pay $7 for singles.

The fee is the same for doubles competitions.

There is a July 29 deadline set. All entries must be in by 5 p.m. For further information, contact Michael Anderson at 728-7530.

Wayne to host football clinic

Wayne Memorial will conduct its second annual Football clinic on Aug. 1 through Aug. 5 at the Wayne High Football field.

Players in the fifth through ninth grades are invited to participate in the clinic geared to teach the fundamentals of the game.

Practice sessions will take place from 6 to 8 p.m. There is a $15 registration fee which will include the cost of a T-shirt. Make checks payable to Wayne Memorial Football Club, and mail registration and check to Coach Floyd Carter, 233 North Bryar, Westland, 48185.

Also include size of T-shirt desired.

For further information contact Coach Carter at 728-5469. The players will be coached by the Wayne Memorial High coaching staff and members of the varsity squad.

Sports Profile

Do you remember Schoolboy Rowe?

By ALAN WALTZ
(ANP Special Writer)

This story begins back in 1940 when a young enthusiastic 6-year-old boy who lived in the vicinity of Trumbull and Forest in Detroit and who at that tender age, already was a die-hard Tiger fan. His heroes included Charlie Gehringer, Hank Greenberg, Rudy York and most of all, Schoolboy Rowe. His Dad would take him each and every weekend to see his idols perform at Briggs Stadium and one Sunday afternoon he was in the Tiger dressing room much to his surprise, and was meeting and shaking hands with all the Tigers.

Somehow his Dad had a "connection" and got him into the dressing room area to meet his favorite ballplayers. When he shook hands with him he exclaimed "Wow, Mr. Rowe you have the biggest hands I've ever seen, which was quite true as Rowe had gigantic hands which could bury a baseball in it and make it look like he had a marble inside."

Needless to say it was quite a day in the life of this young boy and he hasn't forgot it to this day. The impressions left with him that day would last a lifetime.

Now we move to 1958 and we are in White Sands, New Mexico for the start of the U.S. Army's tourney and who is one of the pitchers on the Fort Chaffee, Arkansas team but this same 6-year-old boy who is now all of 5'8" tall and weighs 143 pounds soaking wet. His team is down to two pitchers and they are in the losers bracket which means if they lose another game they are eliminated from the tournament. His coach, Master Sergeant Reyenga hands him the ball and says "go git-em son. We are saving our best pitcher for the big game; if you can win this one for us, we have a good chance to win the tournament and advance into the next phase of the All-Army tourney." The temperature in New Mexico that August day was 98 degrees and the humidity was about the same. The young boy from Detroit started out well as his team built up a 5-0 lead after four innings. Then the rains came and lasted about an hour and after the showers it seemed the temp went to 101 and the humidity was 100 percent.

The boy started to struggle a bit as he gave up 3 runs in the sixth inning and it was obvious the heat was getting to him. In the seventh he got out of a bases loaded jam by striking out the opposing team's pitcher on a slider which really moved. His catcher said it was his best pitch of the game up to that point.

In the eighth inning it was certain he was going on guts only and finally walked two batters with one out and his manager came out to take him out of the game. He handed the ball to Sergeant Reyenga and walked to the dugout his head hanging like he had let everyone down.

He got a standing ovation as he neared the dugout steps and tipped his cap just like Mr. Rowe would've done back in his glory years with Detroit. Well, this story ends well as Fort Chaffee holds on to win but that's not the end.

In the dressing room after the game as everyone is whooping it up, in walks a giant of a man; by now balding and a little stooped.

He shakes hands with everyone but saves his last stop for the little pitcher's cubicle.

Up to this time the little hurler didn't notice this man too much but when he stuck out his hand he did; for the giant man said, "Son, you pitched a great game. My name is Schoolboy Rowe and I used to pitch for the Tigers." His hand was a little wrinkled but it was otherwise still the same size as it was back in 1940.

I wish I could say that the little pitcher started to have a long talk with Rowe about the time he met him in Detroit in 1940, but the little guy just froze and said, "Thank you sir, I remember you." Rowe then walked out of the dressing room as he was scouting for some team and had to be somewhere else the next day.

After that the years passed quickly and one day Mr. Rowe left this world and the little pitcher cried like a baby for he had lost his "second father" but if you think these ballplayers don't leave impressions on impressionable kids then maybe you'll change your mind now. Take heed Mr. Gibson.

Malarkey's wins men's softball tourney

A men's softball team composed primarily of members from the reigning United States Slow-Pitch Softball Association Mixed National team, Malarkey's Pub, took top honors in a tournament last weekend in Dearborn.

Malarkey's compiled a perfect 5-0 record to claim the top spot in the 24-team Fisher Bowl Invitational Tournament held at the Rotunda Fields.

Malarkey's opened the tournament by whitewashing Riednauer Paints, 10-0. After edging Locker Room, 3-2, and humbling Herby's, 20-6, Malarkey's downed S.T.U.D.Z. twice, 8-4 and 24-6.

Barry Insaude was named the tournament's MVP for collecting 13 hits in 17 trips to the plate and picking up three wins on the mound.

Tommy Hamilton, John Kerr, Phil LaPorte and Jason Hiltz were also named to the tournament's All-Star team. Hamilton batted .611, while Kerr and Hiltz hit .625 and LaPorte batted .600.

Additional members of the team included Jon Hiltz, Gordy Ferguson, Jerry Nastaly, Alan Deletka, Tony Cipolla, George Juszczuk, Marc Insaude and Jim Cipponeri.

Cubs are champs

Melvindale eliminates Romulus

Romulus South came within one victory of capturing the Little League District Baseball Championship.

But, as it would be, the young ball players had to settle for runner-up to Melvindale.

In the opening round of competition, Tony Yandura turned in a superb pitching performance as he subdued Lincoln Park on a one-hitter, 16-0.

Dave Bergman blasted a 3-run homer, and Larry Adkins hammered a solo homer to pace South at the plate.

However, Romulus' victory celebration was short-lived as Melvindale came back and humbled pitcher Adkins, 6-2. South recovered in time to get past Southwest Detroit thanks to the winning efforts of Bergman. Bergman needed some help from Bobby Stratton.

The victory moved Romulus into a showdown with Melvindale. Tony Yandura twirled a three-hitter as South won a 13-0 decision, but, with both teams with one loss each, the next game was crucial.

Melvindale came back to avenge its lone loss and win the district title 5-3 despite Adkins' two homers.

Don Barden — rising comet in the world of Cable TV

Detroit mayor's recommendation goes to council

Young wants Barden to build cable TV

If it were up to Mayor Coleman Young, Don Barden, President and Chief Executive of the Inkster-based Barden Cablevision, would construct the Detroit Cable TV system.

Mayor Young this week recommended to Detroit City Council that Barden be awarded the franchise. However, there is still one major obstacle standing between Barden and the biggest prize in the Cable TV world. Detroit City Council must approve Young's recommendation.

Young's recommendation was forwarded to Council on Monday and council must vote in Barden's favor before the mechanism for building the cable TV system for approximately 470,000 homes can get underway.

Barden has proven to the people of Inkster that he can do the job. He was awarded the local franchise in 1981 and within the year he had the system operational. He also has the franchises for Van Buren Township and the City of Romulus. Van Buren's system should be hooked up sometime this summer; Romulus's before the end of the year.

Although some feel that the Detroit City Council will act on Mayor Young's recommendation before Aug. 3 — the final meeting before the council recesses for the summer — at least one councilman, Mel Ravitz, has publicly asked for "more time to study the Barden proposal and Mayor Young's recommendation."

One big factor that apparently convinced Mayor Young that Barden is the man for the Detroit job was a massive, 50-pound, eight-volume proposal that the Barden people laboriously put together to present to the Detroit Cable TV Commission. That year-long proposal cost Barden approximately $350,000.

Where will he get the $200 million needed to build the Detroit system?

According to reports, Barden has the support of a group of banks, including Michigan National Bank which reportedly has offered to loan the Barden Company about $95 million, while Drexel Burnham Lambert, Inc., a New York based securities broker also has agreed to jump on the rising Barden comet by agreeing to sell $65 million in limited partnership shares to help finance the construction.

In return, what can Barden expect?

If the potential in Detroit is realized, and only half of the homes in the metropolitan area hook up, it's estimated that $86 million would flow annually into the Barden coffers. However, Detroit would receive approximately five percent of the system's gross revenues each year as a franchise fee.

Barden's proposal states that there would be 124 channels in the system that would carry a myriad of programs from first run movies to sports — you name it — it would be on a channel.

Cost to the customer, who would have the option of three tiers, include: $3.95 a month, which would provide 36 "free" cable channels, a video game service and would permit customers to purchase one additional pay channel, such as a movie. The second level, would cost $6.95 and have 61 channels and the third tier, at $10.95 monthly, would provide for 88 channels.

Competing for the Detroit franchise also are Detroit Inter-Unity Bell Cable System and City Communications, Inc.

The 39-year-old Barden, raised and educated in Inkster, has become a dynamic force economically and in the world of cable TV.

In an interview with a local newspaperman, he once said: "All I ask them to do is give me the opportunity to do the job. I will get it done. And I will do it better than my competitors."

County in 'red' $130 million

Lucas asks county employees to work a four-day week

Faced with a $38 million deficit for the current fiscal year and an accumulated deficit in excess of $130 million, Wayne County Executive William Lucas has ordered non-essential county employees be placed on a four-day work week, beginning July 29.

The announcement came at a press conference Tuesday.

Lucas has ordered that no county funds be expended, or any obligations incurred, for facilities, equipment or materials unless absolutely essential to the performance of county functions mandated by state laws and the County Charter, that employees not performing essential services be laid off on Friday, July 29, and each Friday thereafter without compensation, and that those layoffs continue until the deficit is reduced to manageable proportions and the county has improved its ability to operate within a reasonable yearly budget appropriation.

"Wayne County's fiscal troubles are the legacy of years of mismanagement and unacceptable accounting practices," Lucas noted. "We have made some progress on these problems, but county government's ability to serve the people, to provide for their needs and to meet the promise of the new charter is directly related to its ability to reduce the deficit to a manageable size and to bring current and future spending under greater control.

"The deficit severely hampers our ability to bargain collectively with county employees. There is no money to put on the table; what we are really negotiating is how much larger a deficit county government can tolerate next year."

Lucas rejected the idea of long-term borrowing to bail the county out of its financial problems, saying that such a move would only increase the debt service burden and does little to solve the underlying problem and that a tax increase is "unacceptable at the moment."

"There is no source of ready salvation from outside the county, either from the state or federal governments," he said. "Wayne County must deal with its own fiscal problems, and county government must act to meet the expectations of the people who indicated so clearly in the last election that they want a sharp break with the mismanaged, deficit-ridden past."

Lucas added that if no action were taken now to reduce the county's growing deficit, its employees would face payless paydays by Sept. 19 and if not for the county's routine delay of payment to creditors, it would have difficulty meeting its July 22 payroll.

"Wayne County has no choice but to solve its fiscal problems on its own, difficult though it may be," he said. "If county government is ever to emerge from the fiscal fogbank in which it has been wandering for the past several years, it must act now."

WILLIAM LUCAS

"If county government is ever to emerge from the fiscal fogbank in which it has been wandering for the past several years, it must act now."

"There is no responsible alternative but to begin reducing expenditures significantly and immediately."

The four-day work week is expected to save the county more than $2 million a month and will affect about 3,000 employees, including the county executive and his administrative staff, who will accept a voluntary reduction of one day's pay a week while continuing to work five days.

Not affected will be "essential" employees, including the nursing staff at Wayne County General Hospital in Westland and sheriff's deputies. Also unaffected will be the 1,200 Wayne County Road Commission employees, whose division operates under a separate budget.

The executive order came in response to a recent independent audit of the county, which set its deficit at $98 million as of Dec. 1, 1982 and projected a deficit of $140 million by the end of the current fiscal year on Nov. 30.

That audit also indicated that a large portion of the deficit, some $78 million, is owed to the state as repayment of loans and medical programs. The state is withholding more than $17 million in revenue sharing funds as the result of the unpaid debt. It appears that another $6 million due next week also will be held back for that same reason.

"We recognize the difficulties this program will cause for affected county employees," Lucas noted, "but we have an obligation as well to the 2½ million residents of Wayne County."

"Short of a tax increase or long-term borrowing — neither of which would solve the county's fundamental problems — the only way to do it is to reduce expenditures. In the long run our ability to pay county employees fair and market wages depends on our beginning to reduce the deficit now."

The alternatives to the temporary four-day work week are a severe curtailment or cessation of many county functions affecting the public health and safety; indefinite layoffs, payless paydays and an increasingly self-destructive deficit. Those alternatives are neither prudent nor in the best interests of our county residents."

Huron battles dumps

concerned with the Sibley site's proximity to Metro Airport. It could attract seagulls which could be dangerous to aircraft.

The Wayne County Committee is now awaiting results of a study being conducted at a dump site near Buffalo, N.Y. That study concerns a seagull-deterrent device being tested at a dump located near an airport.

Lyon apparently has also been nettled by a group of Huron Township residents near the Sibley site who have been actively fighting for months with a political campaign including a barrage of letters and telegrams.

One campaigner, Jerry Clark, says he has sent 300-to-400 dollars worth in telegrams to politicians and officials.

The Township has also spent in excess of $35,000 for professional services, engineering and attorney fees, to show the possible harmful effects of the dump at the Sibley site, apparently focusing most effectively on the proximity of the site to the airport.

It was also noted to Lyon that the area was "prime" Township real estate, located close to the New Boston village.

But it has been summed up, sometimes humorously, that the birds are the only thing in the way of the dump.

At a Huron Zoning Appeals Board meeting in April, a representative of Lyon, John Leymann, asked Clerk Mary Lou Carey for an opportunity to meet with Supervisor A.J. Haener and her.

It was agreed and on June 15 Leymann conducted a tour of a Lyon-operated dump in New Hudson, as an example, and discussion of an alternative dump site was brought up.

That alternative dump site is bounded by South Huron Road on the north; Bell Road on the east; Detroit Edison Power lines on the south; and Rusk Road on the west.

The night of last Wednesday's meeting, July 13, Township Supervisor A.J. Haener began the hearing by reading a letter from Leymann, dated that day, agreeing to the alternative site, citing some conditions:

(1) Huron Township would immediately advise the Wayne County Solid Waste Planning Committee that it supports the alternative site on South Huron Road;

(2) Huron Township would send a letter for delivery to the Department of Natural Resources saying it does not object to the South Huron Road site;

(3) Lyon would want assurance of cooperation from the Township Zoning Board of Appeals and the Planning Commission in the permitting procedures.

Separately to all of this entire matter, rumors had been heard since early May of another dump site where borings were apparently being made at Will Carleton and I-275 by a different firm.

People began calling the Township and asking why.

"Investigation of this rumor was pursued by the administration. Trustee John Puskar also began looking into the matter on his own initiative, to determine the origins of the rumor.

Early last week, Associate Supervisor John Chihan, who had been making daily inquiries to the Department of Natural Resources with phone calls, found out from a representative of the Hazardous Waste Division of DNR that a firm had applied for a temporary transfer site permit (hazardous waste).

The DNR representative told Chihan that the firm had indicated in conversation that they would be back within 30 days to apply for a permit for the hazardous waste site in Huron Township.

This was the first close-to-factual information that the Township got on the dump site.

In this atmosphere, rumors circulated last Wednesday that at the regular meeting that evening, representatives of that hazardous waste company, and also, Lyon, would be at the meeting making requests to the Board for approval.

"Since there was so much concern because of the rumor," said Trustee Puskar, "it was decided there should be a discussion at that meeting to clarify that rumor."

Concluding the often raucous two-hour meeting, Trustee Gary Bates made two motions which were unanimously approved:

The first authorized the clerk to draft petitions for the Township Board's review for citizens to pick up and circulate, authorizing the Township to create such financial resources as is necessary to protect the health, safety and welfare of the community;

The second opposed the change of the landfill site by Clerk Mary Lou Carey and Supervisor A.J. Haener from the Sibley and I-275 site to the South Huron and Bell Roads site as related from the Lyon Development Company (BFI), since they are all objectionable to the health, safety and welfare of the community.

Reconstructive 'surgery'

Reconstruction of the Wayne Road Bridge at the Lower Rouge River (above) will be part of a massive improvement project that will close Wayne Road between Michigan and Glenwood from mid-July until mid-November. In addition to replacement of the deteriorated bridge, Wayne Road will be widened to include a fifth lane for turning.

5C. Motion by Bergeron, supported by Baumann, to adopt a resolution authorizing payment of the Wayne County Rouge Valley System debt with excess funds from Wayne County Sewage Disposal Bonds.

Resolution 83-240

WHEREAS: the City of Romulus is a member of the Wayne County Sewage Disposal - Rouge Valley system, created by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors on November 29, 1960; and

WHEREAS: the City of Romulus is a signatory to the Rouge Valley Sewage Disposal System Contract dated August 10, 1961, under which bonds were sold for the construction of the Rouge Valley Sewage Disposal System; and

WHEREAS: there are surplus funds from the proceeds of the bonds; and

WHEREAS: the City of Romulus desires that the surplus monies be applied to the principal and interest payments due on said Bonds.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the City of Romulus requests the County of Wayne and/or its Department of Public Works, to apply the surplus funds from the Wayne County Sewage Disposal Bonds (Rouge Valley System) 1961 Bond Issue, to the principal and interest payments due for this Bond Issue.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this action is dependent on the adoption by each signatory to the contract of August 10, 1961, and that this Community will make the principal and interest payments as they become due until advised by the County of Wayne.

months and they are not familiar with all these laws.

"...Something you better realize, especially if you're on the Zoning Board, Act 641 which is the law, that is the law, they don't have to go to Zoning Boards.

"They don't care about you, they don't care about them (Township Board), they don't care about any...

"Act 641 says that if that site out there is like a bathtub, all clay...if they can prove that, they can build that dump and if you don't like it that's too bad.

"They don't go in front of your board. They don't ask for permission to drill.

"Now I'm not saying pro or con, but I want you to realize this is the law. So don't be up here hollering at them (the Township Board) because these people have been fighting for two years over this first dump.

"So don't start out picking on them. Start out working with them. Find out the laws and then you'll have a better knowledge of what's going on in your community."

There were many statements, interrogations and exclamations which followed in the 2 hour and 20 minute hearing which ended in two motions made by Trustee Gary-Bates and unanimously approved by the Board (See Public Hearing.)

The public hearing concluded at 10:20 p.m. The regular Township meeting followed.

Wyandotte Savings Bank announces 3 appointments

Lloyd W. Smock, Vice President-Branch Administration of Wyandotte Savings Bank recently announced the appointment of Bernard L. Czernik to Manager of the Bank's Eureka-Middlebelt office in Romulus.

Smock also announced the promotion of Mrs. Roberta Bahm, Assistant Manager at the Bank's Fort-Northline office in Wyandotte, to Utility Branch Manager-Branch Administration, and Mrs. Linda Dominique, Management Trainee, to Assistant Branch Manager, Fort-Northline office.

Czernik began his employment with WSB in 1965 as a Teller Trainee and has held various positions in the Bank's Branch Division including Assistant to the Manager at the Bank's Dearborn Heights office, Branch Manager at the Bank's Gibraltar Road office in Brownstown Township, and at the Bank's Oak Street office in Wyandotte.

Czernik is a graduate of Western High in Detroit, attended the University of Detroit, and has earned Basic and Standard certificates from the American Institute of Banking.

A service veteran, Czernik served in the U.S. Navy and the U.S. Naval Reserve, graduating from the Aerial Photography School at Glenview, Illinois.

Active in community affairs, Czernik has held membership in the Southgate Exchange Club, and the Polish American Citizens Club of Wyandotte. He is a member of St. Sabina Catholic Church in Dearborn Heights, and is presently a Director of the North American Military Collectors Association.

CANCELLATIONS AND CORRECTIONS

Read your ad carefully the first time it appears, and report any errors before the next edition. This will be the only proof you will receive. Errors should be reported immediately, as Associated Newspapers, Inc. can be responsible for the first incorrect insertion only. NO CASH REFUNDS WILL BE MADE.

PUBLICATION POLICY

The publisher reserves the right to edit or reject and properly classify advertising submitted for publication. Publisher shall not be held liable for typographical errors except to the extent of the cost of first insertion and then only for that portion of ad that may have been rendered valueless by such error. Advertisers are advised to check their ad immediately after it appears in the paper and report at once any error found. Claims for error adjustment must be made immediately after ad is published.

CLASSIFIED HOURS

MONDAY
8 a.m.-6 p.m.

TUESDAY-FRIDAY
8 a.m.-5 p.m.

Transient Deadline 6 p.m. Monday.
Display 4 p.m. Monday.
Deadlines subject to change during holidays.

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD CLASSIFIED AD

1. IT'S ALWAYS BEST to start your advertisement with the name of the item or service you have to offer. If you have an apartment or room for rent or property for sale, it's better to start your advertisement with the location.
2. BE CLEAR. Readers read more quickly and favorably when given complete or definite information. One of the most important considerations of any advertisement is to include the price.
3. MAKE IT EASY for the reader to respond to you. ALWAYS INSERT your telephone number or your name and address if you do not have regular hours, state a preferred time to have prospect contact you.
4. PLACE YOURSELF in the reader's position and ask yourself what you would like to know (about your offer). The answer you give will make a good classified ad.
5. CLASSIFIED READERS ARE already interested in buying used or new merchandise. These people have the money and are in the market to buy. Give them every advantage you can with good ad copy.
6. CLASSIFIED ADS THAT FAIL to do so through a lack of readability, but because they are poorly worded and do not contain enough information to prompt action.

An Inside View of Burn Nursing

Being part of an internationally respected health care team is demanding! Nursing in the Michigan Burn Center takes a willingness to be involved. Working with physicians and other highly skilled health care staff, our Burn Center nurses are called upon to use every skill they have acquired to help patients and families survive and cope with severe burn trauma.

The Burn Center is a "mini" hospital in its own right, having its own labs, operating rooms, and intensive care stations. Here nurses are intensively involved with patients and families from admission through discharge. Here there is "Caring" in its most critical and sensitive moments.

If you have the nursing skills and the sensitivity to work with burn patients, and thrive on challenge, the Burn Center is interested in you. Nursing here will not only be a rewarding opportunity for professional practice, but with the educational and career programs of the University at your disposal, it could be the beginning of a new career.

For a closer look at what employment in the University Hospitals Burn Center can mean to you, please call collect or write to: Betty Radcliffe, Nurse Employment Office, University of Michigan Hospitals, 300 N. Ingalls, Box 50, Ann Arbor, MI 48109, (313) 763-4600. A Non-Discriminatory, Affirmative Action Employer.

An Inside View of Burn Nursing

Being part of an internationally respected health care team is demanding! Nursing in the Michigan Burn Center takes a willingness to be involved. Working with physicians and other highly skilled health care staff, our Burn Center nurses are called upon to use every skill they have acquired to help patients and families survive and cope with severe burn trauma.

The Burn Center is a "mini" hospital in its own right, having its own labs, operating rooms, and intensive care stations. Here nurses are intensively involved with patients and families from admission through discharge. Here there is "Caring" in its most critical and sensitive moments.

If you have the nursing skills and the sensitivity to work with burn patients, and thrive on challenge, the Burn Center is interested in you. Nursing here will not only be a rewarding opportunity for professional practice, but with the educational and career programs of the University at your disposal, it could be the beginning of a new career.

For a closer look at what employment in the University Hospitals Burn Center can mean to you, please call collect or write to: Betty Radcliffe, Nurse Employment Office, University of Michigan Hospitals, 300 N. Ingalls, Box 50, Ann Arbor, MI 48109, (313) 763-4600. A Non-Discriminatory, Affirmative Action Employer.

Advertising Results!

We can put it all together for you and your business!

Some businesses don't advertise because they are puzzled. They don't know where to begin. Do they need an artist? Should they hire an ad agency? What's co-op about? Who sets the type?

If you are not now advertising but know that you really should be, then give us a call. Our ad department can do the complete job for you. We'll help you set a budget, decide what items will do best in an ad, help you locate and collect important co-op dollars, write hard-hitting copy, even supply you with art at no extra cost, and place your message before the people who really count... the thousands of readers who can be persuaded to become your customers!

Newspaper advertising is powerful. It really works and the cost is well within the budgets of most small businesses.

Just give us a call. We'll show you how effective newspaper advertising can ring your cash register. We'll get you results!
